Decatur Man Charged With Killing Infant

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — A two-month-long investigation has led to the arrest of a 22-year-old Decatur man on a charge of first degree murder in connection with the June death of an eight-month-old boy.

Roy Dale Powell, route 1, CR-360, Decatur, was arraigned on the charge yesterday in Van Buren Seventh district court here and ordered held without bond until his Wednesday, Sept. 3, preliminary hearing.

Powell, an unemployed laborer, is charged with the June 27 beating death of eight-month-old Kurt D. Canard, the son of Mrs. Mary Canard with whom Powell had been living, according to Van Buren county sheriff's deputies.

Van Buren Prosecutor Frank D. Willis has credited a Kalamazoo pathologist with uncovering evidence that prompted authorities to charge Powell with the death.

Willis said that at the time of the infant's death, it was believed to have been accidental, based on Powell's interview with deputies and upon the fact that the victim's body showed no outward signs of a beating.

But subsequent X-rays by Dr. Daniel F. Glaser of Kalamazoo indicated that the infant had previously suffered broken ribs.

That information prompted deputies to continue their investigation which led to Powell's arrest on the first-degree murder charge, the prosecutor said.

Willis gave this account of the death and the subsequent investigation:

Powell initially told deputies that he was babysitting with the boy that evening while the Canard woman was at work, and had been setting up a new stereo system. As he stepped back to listen to the stereo, he accidentally stepped on Kurt, who had been playing on the floor.

Powell tried to administer mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to the boy who had stopped breathing, and when he realized he could not revive the child he ran to a nearby house, and called the sheriff's department which summoned an ambulance.

The child was dead on arrival at Lake View Community hospital, officers said.

Deputies and state police from the Paw Paw post said that when examined Kurt at the hospital, he appeared to have a few minor cuts and bruises, which any infant learning to walk might have incurred. There appeared to be no evidence of mistreatment, according to the sheriff's department report.

Dr. Glaser performed an autopsy the next day, and attributed the cause of death to a ruptured right auricle of the heart, caused by heavy compression to the chest area, deputies said.

Glaser noted in the autopsy report that the death on the basis of the internal examination alone offered no contradictions. However, X-rays which he ordered taken showed evidence of previous fractures of the boy's ribs healing.

This fact, Glaser said in the report, led him to believe that there might have been past instances of abuse.

Willis said formal charges were delayed until police completed their investigation.

Wandering Storm Noisy, Brief

Localized wind storms dipped into two small areas in Berrien and Van Buren counties last night, leaving fallen trees and broken utility lines in their wake.

One storm toppled trees across roads and utility lines between Galien and Buchanan in south Berrien county about 10:30 p.m. The other knocked down trees southwest of Lawrence in Van Buren county after midnight.

Reports this morning did not establish whether small twisters touched down in the two localities or whether straight winds had struck. Both occurred while a light storm system was passing through southwestern Michigan last night.

The Berrien County Road commission reported several roads were blocked for a time by fallen trees in an area that extended from Galien to the eastern city limits of Buchanan.

Lt. Richard Hemminger of the Berrien sheriff's department substation said a tree fell onto the home of Mrs. Sharon Walter on the Galien-Buchanan road, but no one was injured.

A Michigan Bell toll cable was severed in the Galien area, cutting off long distance telephone service to Galien, Three Oaks and New Buffalo this morning.

Some hail was reported during the brief but violent storm.

Repair crews of the Indiana & Michigan Electric Co. said the main force of the wind appeared to have focused in the Dayton to Clear Lake vicinity between Galien and Buchanan.

Some miles away to the northeast, state police of the Niles post reported a lone tree was blown down across US-31 south of Berrien Springs.

Paul Kaiser, engineer-manager of the Van Buren Road commission, reported his crews were called about 1 a.m. to an area between Lawrence and Keeler to clear about a half-dozen fallen trees off several roads.

No injuries or damage to buildings was reported in that area, which Kaiser said appeared to center along County Road 681 between Red Arrow highway on the north and Territorial road on the south. Kaiser also said two inches of rain was measured at Lawrence.

Bangor and Eau Claire were each without electrical power for about an hour and a half during the night, when lightning hit transformers at I&M substations in the two communities.

Also during the night, lightning caused minor damage when it struck the home of Dennis Bowen, 1809 Trafalgar drive in St. Joseph township, about 1:30 a.m.

Famed Kawneer Plants Close

By JOHN DYE
South Berrien Bureau

NILES — A long-standing Niles industry was scheduled to close its manufacturing facilities today, marking the end of production operations here by Kawneer company.

The firm, which has been in operation in Niles since 1907, will continue to maintain its corporate headquarters here, according to Donald Carson, director of industrial relations for Kawneer.

Kawneer is a subsidiary of Alumax, Inc., San Mateo, Calif.

Carson said that only 17 maintenance workers remained on the job today, finishing clean up operations at Kawneer's Front street plant. He said production at the plant ceased about a month ago.

Kawneer closed down its other Niles plant, located on South Third street, in June of this year.

Before layoffs were initiated at the firm's Niles operations earlier this year, some 260 production and maintenance workers were employed.

Carson said that both production facilities are now just, "empty shells."

In April, Kawneer announced it was closing the Front street plant. Announcement of the closing of the Third street operation came three months earlier in February.

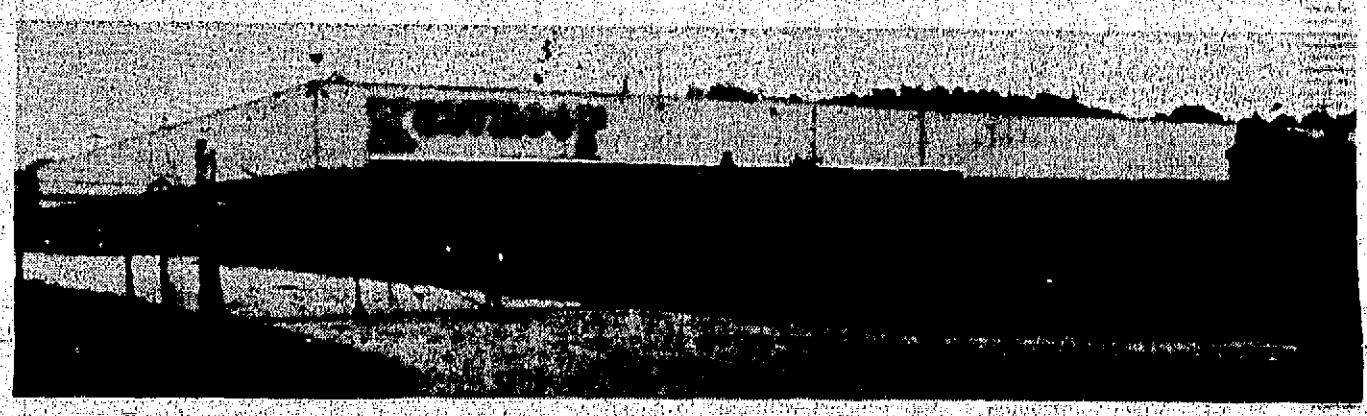

A letter to employe representatives written by Kawneer in April said production operations were shut down in Niles, "In order to achieve substantial reduction in the costs of manufacturing and general overhead, reduce the operating losses that the company has actually experienced and anticipates during 1975 on Niles operations, and thus maintain or improve its competitive position in the architectural aluminum industry."

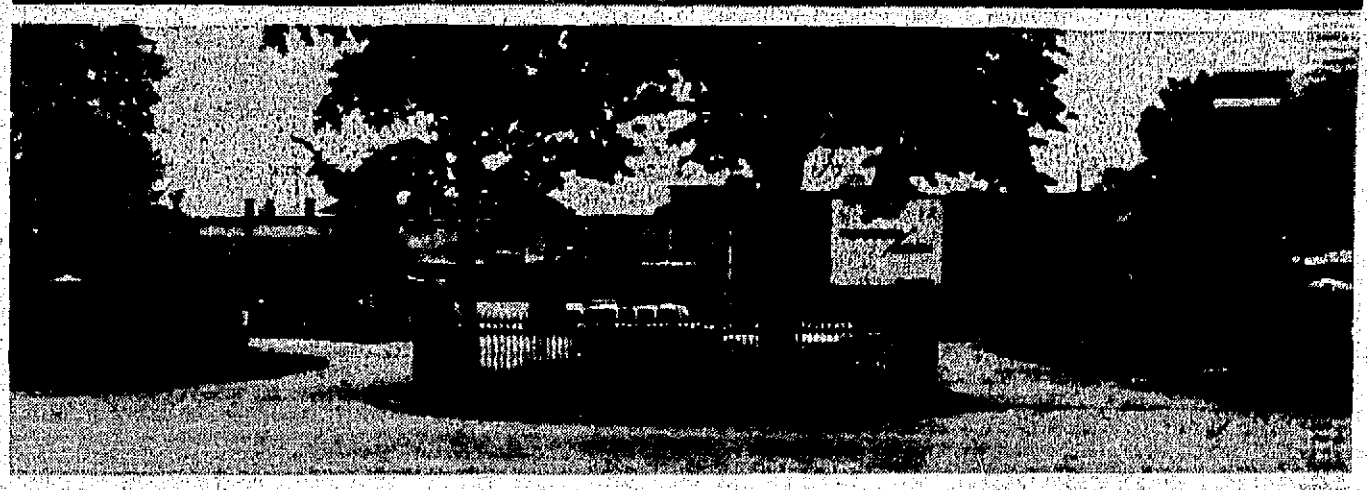

Eight other Kawneer plants in Indiana, Kentucky, Virginia and California will remain in operation.

Kawneer manufactures a variety of architectural aluminum Products.

Carson said that Kawneer has no plans to resume production operations in Niles and has already put the Third street plant up for sale. He said several discussions on the possible sale of the Third street site have been held but no definite

BH Teachers Will Report On Tuesday

State mediator Howard Case is expected sometime next week to enter into deadlocked negotiations between the Benton Harbor Education association and board of education.

Meanwhile, Milen Gray, president of the BHEA, said teachers are scheduled to report for classes Tuesday, although they are without a contract.

Gray said Thursday teachers have "indicated unanimously at two previous meetings they will accept the recommendation of the negotiating team and report to work Tuesday."

The BHEA asked for mediation and also filed an unfair labor practice charge against the board this week.

Seek To Construct Profile Of Slayer

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A prominent University of Michigan psychiatrist has been called in as a consultant in the investigation of possible murders at the Veterans Administration Hospital here, sources said Thursday.

Dr. Derek Miller met with FBI agents Wednesday and will attempt to construct a profile of the murderer, sources told the Ypsilanti Press.

The FBI has been investigating the possibility the 51 cases of respiratory arrests, including eight deaths, since July 1 were caused by intentional injections of a powerful muscle-paralyzing drug.

Acting Chief of Staff Dr. Duane T. Freier, asked about Miller's involvement in the inquiry, said, "I'd rather not comment on that as of yet." However, Freier refused to deny the report.

Miller was unavailible for comment.

Miller is widely known in his profession as an expert on crime and homicide. His usual area of specialty is adolescent psychiatry.

There were 34 cases of respiratory arrests at the VA hospital between July 28 and Aug. 15 involving 23 patients, eight of whom died.

Investigators said preliminary laboratory reports indicate some of the arrests may have been caused by a muscle paralyzing drug, Pavulon.

Doctors at the hospital have said it is possible the drug, commonly used in surgery or for a patient using a respirator, was administered intentionally.

Milliken To Teachers: Don't Strike

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken urged teachers Thursday to bargain while they teach, rather than go out on strike next week if they fail to settle contract disputes.

Over half of Michigan's 530 school districts do not have final agreements.

"It is imperative that both sides step up their negotiations over the weekend," Milliken said.

He again asked the Michigan Employment Relations Commission to provide mediation services quickly and for as long as needed.

The governor echoed a request by state Superintendent of Public Instruction John Porter that teachers without contracts should head for the classroom instead of the picket line.

A total of 256 school districts with enrollments of more than 1 million students were still without contracts as of Tuesday, according to a weekly State Board of Education survey.

Norman Wenheimer, executive director of the Michigan Association of School Boards, said he has reports of many tentative agreements made this week, which are awaiting final ratification by teachers. Most votes are set for Tuesday morning, he said.

"We have seen from the events of last year that confrontation is not a satisfactory approach to resolving collective bargaining disputes," Milliken said.

State Supt. Porter said today Michigan will urge school boards not to negotiate teacher contracts covering less than 180 days of school in 1975-76.

Porter also indicated he would step down next June when his contract as the state's public school chief expires.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley will go to court to enforce a state law that requires a minimum 180 days of instruction during a school year, Porter said. Districts cannot use Christmas and Easter vacations, holidays or weekends to make up the 180 days if school does not start on time next week due to unsettled contracts, he added.

Porter added that a school strike bill vetoed by Gov. William Milliken would have been "a giant step forward" in curbing school strikes. But he stopped short of saying Milliken should have signed the bill, noting that to lapel the governor and the legislature could write acceptable school strike legislation in the fall.

"It was strictly political, not educational," Porter said of the battle between the Democratic legislature and Republican Milliken over a school strike law. Porter made his remarks during and after an interview taped for broadcast on public television station WKAR in East Lansing.

Porter, who's held his job for nearly eight years, said he was "not really going to ask for another contract."

"I will have been in for eight years and that's a long time ... it's really not worth it in many ways," he said. "It's a no win job."

Porter also reiterated his belief that he did not expect more than 25 teacher strikes in Michigan this fall.

St. Joseph Police Ask Aid In Finding Dog

St. Joseph police are urging people in the Pioneer road, Wilson court area, north of St. Joseph high school, to help locate a dog that bit a four-year-old girl Tuesday and perhaps save her from a series of painful rabies shots.

Police said Dawn Katherine Franks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Franks, 2206 Pioneer road, was bitten about 2 p.m. by a dog described as small with blond, shaggy hair. She was bitten on the left foot while walking with her mother near their home. According to Mrs. Franks, Dawn thought the dog belonged to a neighbor and called for it to go home. The dog charged at the little girl and bit her.

Police said a newspaper carrier reported being chased by a dog matching the description of the one that bit Dawn while delivering papers on Wilson court. The carrier was not bitten, police said.

Anyone knowing of the dog is asked to call the police station so the dog can be placed under observation for rabies.

Ironies Of The Great Social Security Snafu

Computers are great things, but like any other tool or piece of equipment they cannot be said to be out of this world. Many factors or combinations of them will turn the things into blithering idiots.

Their electrical motivation and their electronic fidelity must be perfect.

All but the smaller, relatively simple models must be housed in air conditioned, dust free, non-electrostatic, non-magnetic surroundings. Vibration must be absolutely minimal.

Their programming, the initial information upon which they give the answer to a question, has to be letter perfect. The programming must also be valid under all conditions. If the A to the equation of A divided, multiplied, added to or subtracted by B equals What is not on the button, then What will come out just that.

Assuming these first steps are taken in apple pie order, then comes the non-technical operator who feeds D into the machine. If he or she goofs, then, again, What really will be something out of this world.

The Social Security Administration is trying to figure out how to handle one such What that can only be described as egg on the face.

SS has discovered over the past several months it has overpaid 600,000 elderly, blind and disabled recipients by nearly $404 million dollars.

They are people who qualify for benefits under the system's Supplement Security Income Program. It is a welfare type of assistance as distinguished from the pension type remuneration going to retired workers who contributed along with matching employer money into the Social Security plan during their employed years.

The benefits are on a sliding scale up to a maximum of $157.50 a month.

Somehow, these 600,000 persons began to receive more than the regulations provide. The excess ranges from a few dollars a month to an extreme of a $1,000 overpayment per month.

Some recipients did check with their local SS offices about the errors, but if Indiana's Senator Birch Bayh who would be most receptive to the Democratic Presidential nomination is correct, the SS clerks filed the information and no more.

The Administration has recovered and also written off $100 million of the windfall.

It proposes to recoup the other $300 million by deducting $5 per month for each $100 in overpayment.

It will allow the local caseworker to amend or to forgive the repayment in hardship cases, but the Washington headquarters is defining hardship in rigid phrasing to forestall excessive discretion at the local level.

No distinction is drawn in the comparative sense of somone being overpaid $5 or $10 and somebody else hitting the jackpot of a $100 on up to a $1,000 overpayment.

The former, it would seem, could be accepted as an honest belief that maybe Congress did loosen up a bit, whereas the latter should have waved its own red flag that something was haywire.

Bayh's contention for absolute forgiveness is so much rhetoric tuning up for the 1976 convention at New York City. Yet his point that recovery comes at an inopportune time is very clear.

Our solution would be to go after the more flagrant cases and whack the lesser ones from the pay checks of the bureaucrats who created the mess.

As an added irony in the situation, the overpayments will continue emanating from the computer until each suspected error is run to earth, and for at least another 45 days after that. The extra time lag develops from a 30-day notice to the recipient, plus another 15 days for him or her to appeal a decision to pay back.

It is indisputable that war is largely a matter of waste. So also is the officialdom's handling of domestic affairs.

New Yorkers Facing Basic Changes Monday

On Monday, Sept. 1, New York City residents and commuters are due for a series of rude shocks. Subway and bus fares will rise from 35 to 50 cents, bridge and tunnel fares will be 25 cents higher, and a 25 per cent increase is scheduled for fares on the commuter railroad lines operated by the Metropolitan Transportation Authority. And that's not all: The New York Telephone Company will start charging subscribers for certain directory assistance calls on the same date.

But there is one small ray of sunshine filtering through the fiscal gloom. Sept. 1 also is the day that pay toilets become illegal in New York State. After Gov. Hugh L. Carey signed a bill to implement the ban, his office issued a memorandum stating that pay toilets "are viewed as being a needless and discriminatory 'tax' on human bodily functions." The memorandum also observed that "the adverse effects of pay toilets are felt more severely by women, to whom alternative facilities are often not available."

New York has yet to solve the sanitation and health problems created by its large population of dogs, whose owners regard the city's streets and parks as a free canine toilet. Perhaps the Big Apple should follow the example of Paris. Sanitation officials in the French capital recently announced a plan to construct the world's first public flush toilets for dogs. With flowers and perfume, yet. It's an idea worth considering, once New York extricates itself from its financial straitjacket.

'YOUR VOTE MEANS NOTHING'

Editor,

The one thing that irks many voters is the fact that their votes do not count. It is no wonder only 943 voters out of 6,000 registered turned out for the Coloma millage election.

Why should the people vote when their vote means absolutely nothing?

If the voting results do not happen to be what the "brass" wants, all they have to do is spend more money (which could be used for other things) and have another election. Maybe, if we have enough elections on the same issue the people will finally vote the way the "bosses" wanted them to in the first place. I hope not. It isn't the fact that I don't want the schools to be run properly, it's just the principle that your vote means nothing.

If the Coloma millage had passed, I wonder if the people who voted against it could have another election to see if the decision could be reversed? I doubt it.

This is one reason the voters who are registered do not vote anymore. The votes do not mean anything if they aren't what the "bosses" wanted.

If the Oct. 6 millage passes, let's see if the No voters can have another election in eight weeks. Gee, maybe the decision can be changed every eight weeks.

Birmingham Jolted By Earthquake

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Dishes danced, windows rattled and residents were shaken awake Thursday night as an earthquake jolted a wide area of Alabama, authorities said.

No damage or injury was reported as a result of the quake which struck at 11:22 p.m. CDT. It was centered in the northern part of Birmingham and was felt as far away as 100 miles in north Alabama.

"Just a lot of people up in the middle of the night," one sheriff's deputy said of the quake.

One Birmingham resident reported the tremor shook him out of bed, but a spokeswoman for the Jefferson County Sheriff's Office said all she felt was "just a little jiggle."

A spokesman for Birmingham police said a callers reported rattling windows, dancing dishes and, in one case, a walking bed.

The National Earthquake Center in Golden, Colo., said the tremor registered 4.4 on the Richter Scale, the highest in the area since April 23, 1957. A reading of 4 on the scale can cause moderate damage and a reading of 5 can cause considerable damage.

Another Bore Hits The Trail

DURHAM, N.C. — The trouble with Terry Sanford, says George Wallace, is that "he'll bore you silly." Quite right. His basic decency and admirable public service aside, the one-time North Carolina governor, now candidate for President, has a drowsy disposition.

Forever cloaked in business dress, the knot of his tie tight against his neck, the man drones on about state coordinators, travel arrangements, brokered conventions — the stuff of high politics, to be sure, but it's ever so dull.

And it's ever so common in this benumbed campaign for the White House. Sanford by no means stifles alone. Excepting only Wallace, whose charisma is corrupted by his wit, the Democratic candidates are a lackluster lot.

Fred Harris, for one, has been described as the kind of fellow "who's here today and here tomorrow." As for Henry Jackson, the story is the last time he spoke in Miami the tide went out and wouldn't return for nearly a month.

Not that the aspirants aren't interesting men in their own right. Sanford, for instance, has several campaign pages of credentials, printed, you can be sure, with the proper union bug: World War II paratrooper, state officer, volunteer do-gooder, author of two political books, friend to John Kennedy and now president of Duke University. Impeccable. And so much for impeccability.

Despite it, according to polls, Sanford's name is recognized by fewer than 20 per cent of the American people. His support, to now, comes almost entirely from political animals like himself; the real people resist Terry Sanford's campaign with monotonous regularity.

Defensively, Sanford says he loses no sleep over the popularity issue. The primaries, after all, are seven months off, the election fifteen. No candidate has yet caught fire with the public, he insists, because "it's too early for firewatchers." And as a point of fact, candidates are not now campaigning so much for votes as they are for organization, thus the insipid quality of the entire matter. "There's nothing exciting," Sanford says, "in setting up shop in Iowa."

It is of course not difficult to make fun here of Terry Sanford, or Fred Harris, or Scoop Jackson. One can take any political quote or action and bare its inconsistencies and selfish nature. (Sanford, the bleeding heart liberal, once raised the grocery tax of North Carolina's poor in order to give teachers who supported his gubernatorial candidacy a nice salary increase.) But the good gray candidates, as ever, invite the snickers.

As have politicos forever, they continue to present themselves as straight up, cosmopolitan phenomena. They are thus boring because they are obvious, and dated. Most Americans have outgrown such corn.

So the campaign drags on. An aide to Terry Sanford reminds that a Southern-born, one-term governor turned college president can never be discounted in Democratic politics, "because, remember, that's what Woodrow Wilson was!"

The mimeograph machines roll. The phones ring. The solicitations go out. As for the candidate, resting on a chair in his $500,000 home, he smiles at his faithful wife and reveals: "I've been in more than 20 states since I announced."

After 200 years, we still have 15 months to go before election.

Bailing Out U.S. Postal System

WASHINGTON — Congress will finally take the first significant steps to cope with the Postal Service problem shortly after it returns next week.

The House Rules Committee is expected to report out a measure which will gingerly edge Congress back into the post office business by approving a massive new Federal subsidy and authorizing a study aimed at improving postal efficiency.

Congress has been reluctant to be drawn into the troubles of the post office, which was reorganized into a private, quasi-independent corporation four years ago. It had become such a highly politicized service that Congressmen were glad to get rid of it.

But the Postal Service, with a current budget of $12.6 billion, now has a deficit of more than $820 million and a projected loss for next year of $1.6 billion. It is, in fact, on the verge of bankruptcy.

The Service has been plagued with scandals, inefficiency, inflationary costs, a too-rapid turnover, and a Postal Rate Commission which refuses to make basic financial decisions. The Commission must authorize any permanent postage rate increase sought by the Service, but a stamp hike requested in 1973 has not been ruled upon at this writing.

The post office has raised its rates anyway, but they are supposed to be temporary. Since private enterprise took over, first-class stamps have risen 67 per cent, second-class magazine and newspaper rates more than 90 per cent, and third-class bulk advertising rates 57 per cent.

The House measure as now pending would give the Postal Service authority to impose a 20 per cent increase immediately upon all classes of mail, in effect overruling the Rate Commission judge. But Postal Subcommittee chairman James Hanley (D.-N.Y.), who was outvoted in his own body on this issue, is prepared to battle on the House floor against a first-class increase. Raising the price of stamps for ordinary people who wish to mail letters is not a politically popular idea, and Hanley may well save the 10-cent stamp, although bringing back a cheaper one is a little unrealistic.

The House bill provides for a yearly subsidy of $2.6 billion for the next four years, instead of the paltry $920 million which the Service has been given each year since it theoretically went private.

Congress is not exactly preparing to run the Postal Service again. But the special study of the system it is proposing and the four-year time limit on its financial subsidy indicate that Congress may be willing to impose stricter controls over the post office, if it seems necessary in the future.

The Senate has been waiting for the House to act on the sensitive postal issue, but is expected to take up the matter later this fall. There seems to be little question but that Congress must bail out the postal system, and do so promptly. As lousy as it is, it is cetainly better than no mail service at all.

Sheryl Ann Piedt will play "Latinata" in the role of solo alto saxophonist, Howard said, and William Fred Rogers will solo on the typewriter in Leroy Anderson's "The Typewriter."

The municipal band's trumpet trio, composed of Don Moely, Craig Heitger and Jim Bekkering, will return to play "Victoria Waltz." The band will answer requests for highlights from "Fiddler on the Roof," Howard said, and will also play "National Emblem" march, and "Tocata Manziale" by Ralph Vaughan-Williams.

The Labor day concert will answer requests for "Under the Double Eagle" march, highlights from "Promises, Promises," and John Philip Sousa's "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

Jerry Lackey will play a bass tuba solo, "A Touch of the Tuba" and will be joined by Rick Watts and his tuba to play "Puff, the Magic Dragon." A brass quintet composed of members of the band will give the listeners a different sound, according to Howard. Members of the quintet are trumpeters Heitger and Robert Hodges, hornist Deloss Schertz, trombonist John Benscies, and bassist Lackey.

Western Michigan's BH Center Offering 24 Night Classes

The Benton Harbor regional center of Western Michigan university is offering 24 night classes for off campus students beginning Sept. 15, according to Stephen Nisbet, center director. Cost for undergraduate students is $31.50 per semester hour, according to Nisbet, and information on admission or registration can be obtained by contacting the regional center at 777 Riverview drive, Benton Harbor.

LABOR LEADERS BOOST UNITED WAY: Some 160 area labor leaders held a special rally this week at the St. Joseph Holiday Inn to hear Blossomland United Way and state dignitaries urge involvement in the 1975 BUW campaign. Lending support to the community-wide effort are, from left: Jim F. Miller, director of the BUW information and referral service; Walter Campbell, president of United Way of Michigan; Harry Reynolds, business agent, Teamsters local 7; and Clyde Williams, international representative for region 1-D, UAW.

Blossomland United Way's Labor Leaders Get Challenge

Blossomland United Way labor leaders were issued a challenge to "participate" in the 1975 community campaign by various state and local labor leaders at a rally this week in the St. Joseph Holiday Inn.

Conducted by the Community Action Program-Council of Cass, Van Buren, and Berrien counties, the rally drew 160 organized labor representatives who heard Walter Campbell, president of the United Way of Michigan, describe his experience as an open-heart surgery patient. Campbell praised the Michigan Heart Association whose development of the heart-lung machine paved the way to open heart surgery.

Campbell is secretary-treasurer of the Michigan AFL-CIO. He also serves as a commissioner on the Michigan Employment Security commission.

Curtis Hartfield, president of local 793 UAW and vice-president of the CAP-Council, said the purpose of the council is to promote improvement of the community. Involvement in the United Way campaign is one way of accomplishng that, Hartfield claimed.

Walter Browe, executive vice president of Lake Michigan college, introduced the locally-produced 1975 campaign film "You've Got A Friend." Several copies of the 10-minute film are available for employe gatherings and other meetings, Browe said. Browe is vice chairman of the 1975 BUW campaign.

Death Due To Brain Injury

William Weaver, 61, a St. Joseph auto dealer, died of "brain injury due to skull fracture," according to Dr. William Benner, chief Berrien county medical examiner.

Dr. Benner said there was no autopsy on body because it was "not considered necessary because clinical findings confirm cause of death."

Mr. Weaver died Tuesday about three hours after he fell some 15 feet from a ladder while working on an electrical sign at Weaver Brothers Auto Sales. St. Joseph police said there was a burn on his hand which may been from electrical shock causing him to fall.

Dr. Benner said an electrical shock was not confirmed definitely. He added that if shock had occurred it could have been a factor causing the fall, but not the direct cause of death.

BHHS Will Open Without Meals, 7 New Classrooms

By JIM SHANAHAN
City Editor

Benton Harbor high school will open next Tuesday for single session days without complete food service and using seven temporary classrooms, school officials announced yesterday.

Substitute classrooms are necessary because seven new classrooms are not finished, according to Edward Troffer, director of operations and facilities.

Troffer described nearly $1 million in construction at BHHS during the summer to prepare for the return to single sessions and said:

"Nine months construction was attempted in 90 days. The main emphasis was opening on single sessions on time and that we're going to do."

BHHS went on split sessions in 1970 with upperclassmen attending in the morning, freshmen and sophomores in the afternoon.

The plans for starting high school with some temporary arrangements were presented by Troffer, Principal Wallace Dunn, and Roderick Halstad, acting assistant superintendent for secondary education.

Classes will start at 8 a.m. and run five periods to 1 p.m. when most students will be dismissed. Those taking a sixth hour will lunch from 1 to 1:45 and be dismissed at 2:45.

Troffer said students taking a sixth-hour may eat in the cafeteria, where beverages and ice cream will be available, but they'll have to bring their own lunches because food service isn't expected to start before Sept. 15.

Dunn said sixth-hour students also may leave the main campus to get their own lunches, provided they are back at 1:45.

Six new classrooms are being built over the classroom cafeteria and the date for occupancy is Oct. 1. One classroom will be in the auditorium, occupancy date Sept. 15, Troffer said.

Temporary classrooms will be obtained by using four rooms that had been assigned to special education, two makeshift rooms in the library, and a reading lab off the library.

Special education classes will be switched from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. until the new classrooms are finished. Bus transportation will be available for eligible special education students.

On progress of other construction projects at BHHS, Troffer said:

—New storage building on north side of school for physical education and instructional materials equipment is scheduled for completion Oct. 1.

—New locker rooms are "99 per cent complete" and useable at start of school.

—Art room enlargement completed.

—Three portable units ready for classes.

—New parking lot on north side useable at start of school with sealing and marking to be done during non-school hours.

The north side parking lot is for professional staff only. A lot off Empire is for non-professional staff and students with parking permits. The driver education range also will be used for students with permits.

Halstad said parking will be strictly controled. He also noted that all high school security personnel have taken two weeks of special security training at Lake Michigan college.

The high school now employes its own security personnel under director of Steve Mitchell, former Eastern Michigan university campus officer.

The faculty dining room also is not completed, and teachers who bring their lunches will eat in the library with beverages available.

Students taking a sixth hour at the Tech and Skill centers will be served a full lunch starting Tuesday, Dunn said there is a closed campus rule at the two centers.

Will Close Hawthorne Intersection

Hawthorne avenue will be closed at Lake Shore drive for intersection widening construction starting Tuesday, according to St. Joseph City Engineer Michael Wiesner.

He said the work will take approximately two weeks. It will include the addition of a new right turn lane on the north side of the pavement, and a widening of the curbing on the south side of the street. Wiesner said trucks from the industrial district on Hawthorne have trouble making the turn to or from Hawthorne without going over the present curbs.

Vehicles using Hawthorne during the construction will have to enter from the Cleveland avenue end.

One Hurt In Smashup

A driver of a car involved in a three-vehicle accident Thursday on Niles avenue at Napier avenue was treated for minor injuries, St. Joseph police reported.

Released after treatment at Memorial hospital was Robert Carl Zuhl, 83, of 933 Lewis avenue, St. Joseph. Zuhl was also ticketed for failure to yield right of way in the 1:07 p.m. accident, police said.

The other two drivers involved were identified as George Edward Joyner, 48, of route 2, Hartford, and Allan Edward Thar, 40, of 668 West Glenlord road, Lincoln township. Neither was injured, police indicated.

Resident Asks Permit For Seawall

Herbert D. Mendel, 1600 Rocky Gap road, Benton township, has applied to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to construct a 75 foot seawall perpendicular to his lakefront property located approximately 2.2 miles north of the St. Joseph river harbor.

Col. James E. Hays, Corps of Engineers, said the proposed groin will be attached to an existing seawall running onshore parallel with the shoreline. Forty-two feet of the proposed groin will extend beyond the shoreline into the lake, he said.

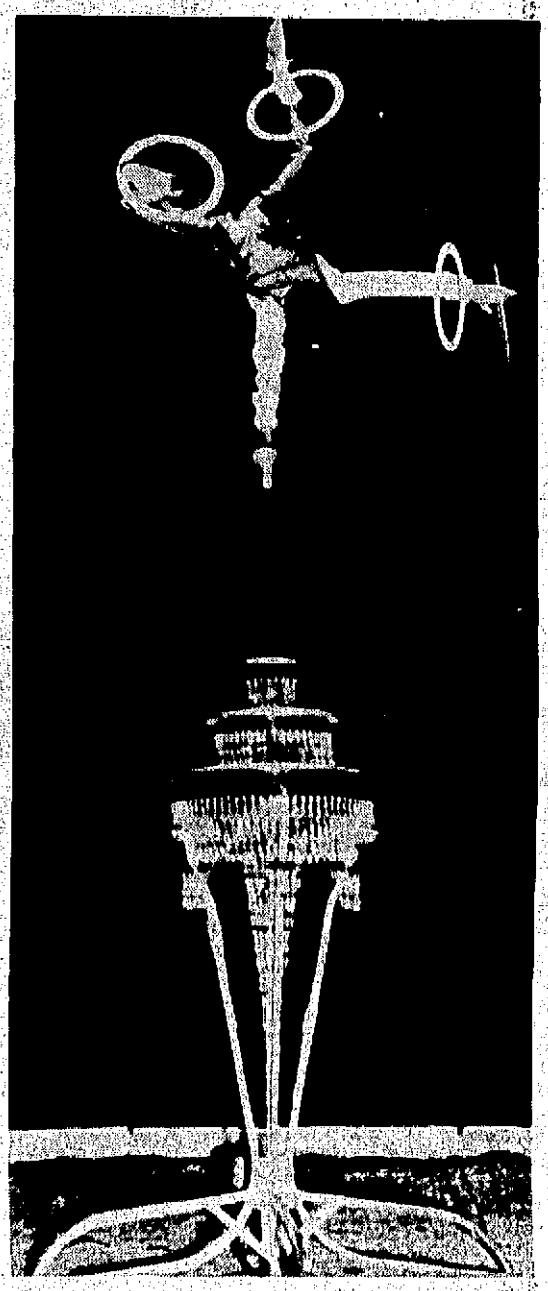

Anyone having objections to the construction of the groin should protest in writing to the Detroit office of the Army Corps of Engineers, P.O. Box 1027, Detroit 48231, Hays said.

Lake Temperature

The temperature of Lake Michigan at shoreline today is 74 degrees.

A Million Prescriptions

Mercy hospital, Benton Harbor, has received a commemorative apothecary jar for recently filling the 1 millionth prescription in the history of its pharmacy. The apothecary jar was from Eli Lilly and Company, Indianapolis. It was presented to Ernest Badt, director of Mercy's pharmacy, by Fred McAllister, area representative for Lilly, and Robert Tidwell, district manager.

PERFORMS SUNDAY: The Fabulous Lamberti Jr. will perform body balancing and juggling feats for both St. Joseph Municipal band concerts Sunday, Aug. 31. Double concerts Labor day, Monday, Sept. 1, will conclude the season for the band.

BH, Police Appear Close In Contract Negotiations

Benton Harbor city officials hope that a collective bargaining dispute with city patrolmen will be settled before negotiations go into arbitration.

"I think we are fairly close to an agreement," City Manager Charles Morrison said Thursday. "There is only a narrow difference between the city and the Patrolmen's Association on the issues of negotiation."

An arbitrator, Atty. Alan Walt of Southfield, has been appointed by the Michigan Employment Relations commission to chair the arbitration panel on the contract dispute but no date has been set for the arbitration hearings.

"We are not really very far apart on any of the issues," said Darryl Williamson, Patrolmen's association president.

"There is just a substantial enough difference that we couldn't agree on a contract without calling in an arbitrator."

City police went to arbitration in 1970 and won 8 per cent pay hikes which the city said it couldn't afford. Passage of extra tax millage was necessary to avoid drastic cutbacks in personnel and services.

Negotiations between the city and police went into arbitration proceedings in 1971 resulting in patrolmen gaining a majority of their demands.

Morrison said the present dispute is over some six or seven issues but said that "pay is probably the main issue."

If negotiations go before arbitration proceedings, the City of Benton Harbor will be represented by Les Johnson, city administrative analyst, and the patrolmen will be represented by Jon Nichols, district Fraternal Order of Police (FOP) representative under the labor program.

Hospital Construction May Disrupt Parking

The first phase of Memorial hospital's new construction project is underway and it may affect the availability of parking space in the visitors' parking lot for the next 30 days, according to Hospital Administrator R.A. Bradburn.

The first step of the project is enlargement of the employes' parking lot, north of the hospital off Napier avenue.

Bradburn explained a planned boiler house addition at the end of the north wing will cut off the current driveway to the doctors' parking lot. The driveway is to be relocated through a portion of the employes' lot, which will knock out 80 parking spaces in the employes' lot. To compensate for the 80 lost spaces, the employes' lot will be expanded toward Napier avenue.

Until this expansion of the employes' lot is completed in about 30 days, Bradburn indicated, some employes may park in the visitors' parking lot in front of the hospital. This, in turn, likely will cause an overflow of cars from the visitors' lot.

"Portions of Morton avenue and adjoining streets will have to be used for parking during the next month," he said.

Added Hospital Board President Lester Tiscornia: "We realize that during this first construction phase that visitors, employes and residents on adjoining streets will be inconvenienced by the hospital's inadequate parking facilities. But we have no alternative during this first construction phase and are certain everyone concerned will understand the problem.

The expansion of the employes' lot will add 50 more spaces than it previously had.

The entire construction program will cost approximateal $1.9 million and will entail mainly a general updating of existing facilities.

Hearing To Resume In Conspiracy Case

The preliminary examination for two businessmen and a retired state policeman charged with conspiracy to obtain $24,372 under false pretenses is set to resume Tuesday at 9 a.m., following an adjournment that has stretched out 49 days.

Charged with illegally obtaining the money from Beaudoin-Stueland Electric Co., St. Joseph, are former company president James Boreham, 36; St. Joseph Atty. Thomas McCoy, 47, Lanphear, and retired Lt. William 51, Sault Ste. Marie.

Their hearing was adjourned in mid-July after two days of testimony in Berrien Fifth District court. It was alleged that a company called Soo Surplus, owned by Lanphear had illegal business dealings with Beaudoin-Stueland. Prosecution alleges that the trio of defendants profited from the dealings.

ACTION BETWEEN INDUSTRIES NECESSARY

Prediction Made For 1980 Washer

By ARLYS DERRICK
Women's Editor

The typical laundry operation in the American home of about 1980 will consist of adding about five kilograms of mixed clothing — composed mostly of polyester, nylon, acrylic, and resinated cellulosic fibers — into a washer loaded with approximately 60 liters of softened water heated to about 40 degrees Celsius.

This is the prediction of Richard C. Davis, staff technical forecaster in the Research and Engineering center of Whirlpool corporation, in a series of talks this year including one to the home economic teachers of St. Joseph and Benton Harbor.

Davis predicts that in the 1980 washer, liquid nonionic (material which won't break down in water) detergent containing little or no inorganic matter will be dispensed from a storage reservoir within the machine and washing will proceed until oily and clay soils are solubilized and dispersed.

When the washing is complete, he says, the soiled water will be pumped down the drain. In the sewage system, the nonionic detergent will biodegrade completely, leaving no poisonous or noxious residues to pollute streams or to detract from subsequent use of the water for human consumption.

Davis points out that it is expected that most industries will have converted to the metric system by that time.

The washer, textile, and detergent industries are so intimately connected that any serious dislocation in one industry produces repercussions immediately in each of the other industries, Davis says.

"The continuing attacks on the use of polyphosphates in detergents, as an example, has produced non-phosphate detergents which yield sclerotic deposits of limestone in washers and had caused the manufacturers of fire resistant sleepwear for children intentionally to label their products not to be washed in them."

The introduction of enzyme bearing detergents caused the washer manufacturers to adapt their machines to permit extended soaking of badly soiled clothes, thus giving the enzymes sufficient time to perform their functions, Davis says.

He notes that the development of permanent press garments by the textile industry was followed within a few months by the introduction of properly matched cycles in washers and dryers designed to handle this new concept in clothing.

"Near instantaneous reaction to actions in the other industries has become a hallmark of the American laundry machine industry," Davis says. "This ability to respond quickly has not come about through accident, however. There exists a long-standing liaison between the industries which permits information transfer during the development phases of new technology, thus allowing parallel development of proper laundering equipment to proceed even as the new technology is being perfected within the creating industry.

The ultimate result has been the proper matching of mechanical equipment to ever advancing textiles and detergents."

Davis says that the productive nature of the laundry machine industry makes it necessary that this industry, be, usually, the reacting group rather than the action initiator.

An example of this, he says, is the elimination of the ironer by the development of permanent press clothing. This textile development completely cancelled the need for a new ironer or the need for doing any further research work to evolve a new concept in ironers.

Another reason, Davis says, for the reactive nature of the laundry machine industry, is the time and money required to tool-up to make a completely new or radically changed line of machines. A full understanding of these time requirements shows the importance attached by the laundry machine industry to the liaison between detergent and textile.

Davis anticipates that polyphosphates will be eliminated or drastically reduced in detergent formulations by law since the environmental groups which have lions, by law "since the environmental groups which have pressed the attacks heretofore have simply been regrouping and preparing new assaults."

Davis says that since international treaties involving the Great Lakes are being pressed, it is not difficult to expect that eventually the American government will edict that phosphate "pollution" cease. The prime target, he believes, as it has been in the past, will be detergents.

Water conditions in a wide areas of the United States and Canada determine that a new means of softening wash water must evolve since present products have not met the challenge. This new system, Daivs says, must either be included in the detergent box or be supplied by the manufacturer of machines.

"The ultimate answer," he says, "seems to be an ion exchange softener which handles the wash water as it enters the machine. Such a device was made and sold a decade ago but now the time seems ripe to reevaluate this possibility."

Davis points out that just as detergents replaced soaps in washing cottons, so is cotton well on the road toward becoming a secondary fiber in the marketplace, being replaced steadily by manmade fibers such as polyesters, nylons, acrylics, and to some extent, by improved rayons.

Nonionic based detergents have been available on the market for many years in either liquid or solid form, Davis points out. Recently a few nonionic based liquids essentially free of inorganic materials have begun to appear and washing machine manufacturers believe that these products offer certain basic advantages — specifically that mechanical dispensers for these products will be easier to develop and to maintain than has been possible in the past.

A further advantage of these liquids is that dispenser reservoirs storing large quantities of detergent can be designed, adding to the automaticity of the whole laundry system.

The current energy crisis has brought to the forefront another factor that washer manufacturers, along with detergent makers, will have to face, Davis says.

In the laundering process, approximately 85 per cent of the energy used for cleaning clothing is accounted for by the heating of wash water. Average washing temperature had been about 125 degrees Fahrenheit until the advent of permanent press textiles reduced that figure somewhat.

"If energy is to be saved in the washing process," Davis says, "further reductions must occur at the expense of heated wash and rinse waters. It is not unreasonable to expect that most home washing will be done at about 95-100 degrees Fahrenheit. Favored would be liquid detergents which disperse rapidly into the lower temperature wash waters and attack the soils on the clothing by solubilization of oily materials. These are properties of the new nonionic liquid detergents."

Davis points out that the refiner of petroleum has a definite and important role to play in the changes anticipated in this multi-industry equation. He must supply the ever increasing amounts of materials from which washers, detergents, and textiles are manufactured.

The petroleum industry must increase the production of ethylene and propylene since from these hydrocarbons many of the raw materials upon which the other industries depend, are made.

In the washer, for example, these two materials make up such parts as agitators, pumps, paints, filters, etc.

If this idealized version of washing in the future is to be realized, Davis emphasizes, the hydrocarbon processor has as big a part to play as either the textile, detergent, or laundry machine manufacturer.

Offer Breast Examinations Free For Berrien Women

The Berrien County Unit of the American Cancer Society has been allocated 120 appointments for the free breast examination program to be held at the Breast Cancer Detection Center in Ann Arbor.

Transportation to Ann Arbor will be provided and appointments are now being accepted for Sept. 3, 5, 8, 11 and 23.

The examination will consist of a thorough medical history and physical examination of the breasts including mammography and thermography.

According to Dr. Barbara Threatt of Ann Arbor, mammography is now a well-established and accepted method of breast examination. With recent innovations of examination, better detailed films requiring lower radiation dosage to the breast are possible. Accuracy of mammography has been reported from 70-85 per cent depending upon the type of patients and the mammographer. In general, mammography has an accuracy of 70-80 per cent; in combination with a careful physical examination diagnostic accuracy for a breast mass is approximately 96 per cent. Mammography is an x-ray picture capable of showing early signs of cancer.

Thermography is a new technique for breast examination, according to Dr. Threatt. In this technique, the infra-red radiation from the breast is photographed. Interpretations of thermograms are based on the observations that any site of increased metabolic activity will produce increased amount of infra-red radiation. These areas of increased infra-red radiation appear as a "hot spot" on a thermogram.

Women interested must be within the ages of 35 to 74. They must not be pregnant nor under the care of a physician for a breast problem. By participating in the program, a woman must agree to be active in the program for five years.

All examinations are without charge.

Post-mastectomy patients and women with known but inactive benign disease may be accepted for the program.

All interested women may call the Berrien County Unit of the American Cancer Society or stop at the office, 1501 Niles avenue, St. Joseph.

According to Dr. Threatt, breast cancer is the leading cause of cancer incidence and cancer death in American females.

Dr. Threatt is assistant professor of radiology at the University of Michigan Medical School. The Breast Cancer Detection Project is being held at the University of Michigan Hospital.

Art Fair Set In Shoreham

Annual Event

Harbert artist Stuart Sizer will exhibit his sculpture for the first time in the Shoreham Village Art Fair Sunday, Aug. 31.

The fair, "Acres of Art," will be held at 3170-3180 South Lakeshore drive, with the major portion on the C.K. Johnson, W.H. Card, H.M. Thurkettle and Robert Kinney properties while the Roy Liskey acreage will be used for parking.

The fair will begin at 11 a.m. and conclude at 6 p.m.

Sizer studied at Franklin college, Art Institute of Chicago, American Academy, Chicago, and Bauhaus School of Design, Chicago.

In the past, Sizer has exhibited at the St. Joseph, AAUW, Bridgman, Chicago and Tucson, Ariz., art shows.

He has been employed by Lettering, Inc., Chicago, and was product designer for Heath Company, St. Joseph. He has also been an illustrator for "Saturday Evening Post."

More than 50 artists and craftsman have been invited to exhibit their work at the fourth annual event. All exhibitors will be screened and only quality work will be offered for sale, according to Mrs. F.V. Cupp, chairman.

The fair will be divided into different categories with one section, the Children's Corner, featuring works of interest to children.

"The Kentucky Woman" Nancy Eversole and her husband, Ron Eversole, will entertain throughout the afternoon.

Of the 30 types of arts and crafts, many will be new to the area, including Pat Druilliard of Dowagiac, toleware; Carol Hemdahl of Kouts, Ind., scratchwork drawings; and Jerry Catania, Stevensville, hand blown glass.

Refreshments and free parking will be available.

Raindate is Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 1.

Men Also Seek More Freedom

To Close For Holiday

Benton Harbor public library will be closed Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 1.

Books added to the library collection include "The Poisoned Kiss," Joyce Carol Oates; "The Big Cull," John Crossey; "Best Detective Stores of the Year-1975," Allen Rubin; "Or Was He Pushed?," Richard Lockridge; "The Graveyard;" P.M. Hubbard; "Out of Our Lives," Quandra Stadler; "Let's Make Sex A Household Word," Sol Gordon, and "The Passing of the Armies," Joshua Chamberlin.

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — A large male turnout for a college course on roles imposed by society suggests women are not alone in seeking greater freedom, according to a professor.

"I had expected all women to sign up," said Asst. Prof. Steven Dworkin, who teaches social work at Southern Connecticut State college.

He said the two sexes were split about evenly among 20 students who last year joined his new elective evening course on social stereotypes for prospective teachers.

"And we have arguments every night," he added, saying disagreement was a healthy part of the learning process.

One memorable argument involved the general suspicion society holds for strong friendships between two men.

"One 25-year-old man admitted that his father had never hugged him and he now wished he had had this opportunity because he now lacks the ability to demonstrate his affections," Dworkin said.

He talked of the fear of homosexuality which seemed to be the basis for fathers' not hugging their sons. But others in the class pointed out that we were not discussing sex but friendship and the stereotype society put on such a relationship.

He said the argument became so intense he had to intervene.

Other subjects arise: why men work so hard, why they shy away from day-to-day child care, and why they suffer retirement woes.

Dworkin, who has faced many of the family problems as a divorced father of two young children, said many men in the course expressed a fear of assuming responsibility for child care and of "getting stuck" with the job if they did.

He recalled that he had trouble in an earlier mental health job persuading his employer to shift his schedule so he could balance night meetings with mornings off to spend time with his children.

Unjustified social stereotypes will continue until people realize the benefits of changing them, he said.

He listed several benefits men would experience:

— More satisfying relationships with all people.

— Children with healthier attitudes because of the added parental support.

— Stronger families through sharing of more home activities with their wives.

— Longer life because of less work stress.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

You Won't Live Forever

Dear Ann Landers: Why would a bright, loving man who showed every consideration for his wife and children during his lifetime die without leaving them protected by a will?

It's too late for your answer to help us, but please, Ann, print this letter because both my attorney and funeral director have told me that an unbelievable number of men, responsible and competent in fiscal matters, behave as if they are going to live forever. They make no preparation whatever for the eventuality of death.

I am now faced with a financial mess beyond belief. Attorney's fees and inheritance taxes are horrendous. I am also having heartbreaking problems with my husband's brother over some property — the ownership of which is unclear.

I know my husband loved me and the children with all his heart. Why didn't he take care of us properly? — Thorns Among The Widow's Weeds

Dear Thorns: Why? Because, like so many others, he hated to think about death — as if by ignoring it, it would ignore him.

I hope every man who reads this column will ask himself, "If I died tonight would my family be protected financially?" If the answer is "yes," you deserve to sleep like a baby. If not, get busy and put your affairs in order. You owe it to those you love.

Changed Life

Dear Ann Landers: I can't do one other thing until I write a letter which I hope Melanie's parents will read. She's the 22-year-old girl who wanted to have her nose done.

I, too, had a nose with "character," according to my parents. They were dead set against my doing anything to change it. Actually, it was a big blob and much too big for my face. I hated it.

After months of pleading, my father took me to a plastic surgeon who was well known for his fine work, fair prices and high ethical standards. He sided with me and his operation changed my life.

Like Melanie, I was never popular. After the surgery I was the same old me but my whole attitude changed. I had confidence when I met new people and a much better opinion of myself.

Now, even my parents admit I was right. Good luck, Melanie! — Much Happier

Dear Much: The key phrase in your letter, which — should be noted carefully, is "a plastic surgeon well known for his fine work, fair prices and high ethical standards." Take heed, readers — and thanks for writing, dear.

Plants With Taste

Dear Ann Landers: I am writing this in answer to the letter from "Plant Lover In Miami." I am 13 years old and have been doing a lot of experiments with plants for the Science Fair. Here are my findings:

I took three different kinds of plants and played three different kinds of music, six hours a day, to all of them. The plants that got the rock and roll were dead in 24 hours. The plants that "listened" to the dance music of the '50s didn't die, but they weren't especially healthy. The third category, which got the Chopin, Mozart and lullabies flourished. So you see, Ann, there IS something to it. — Another Plant Lover

Dear Lover: So my readers told me — by the hundreds. Thanks for sharing your research.

Your Birthday

Aug. 30, 1975

Your career prospects are extremely promising this coming year. A rise in position is likely. It will be accompanied by many important fringe benefits.

Dr. Lester Coleman

Two of my sisters began to lose their hearing when they were only 30. I am 26 and I've noticed that since the birth of my second child my hearing is not as sharp as it used to be. Will I have the same problem as my sisters?

Mrs. V.T., Neb.

Dear Mrs. T.:

Your observation that your hearing was less acute after pregnancy is a very interesting one. This, coupled with the fact that your sisters became deaf at an early age, suggests the possibility that a hereditary condition known as "Otosclerosis" may be present.

For some unexplained reason, pregnancy, especially during the end stages, may cause some drop in hearing.

Otosclerosis follows a family pattern and more frequently involves women than men. Although it is a complex condition, the diagnosis can be made by an ear specialist. Complete examination of the ears, X-ray studies and special audiometric hearing tests can point to the possibility that otosclerosis exists.

There is, at present, no medical method by which the progress of this condition can be interrupted.

However, today, there is an operation known as "stapedectomy" which is remarkably effective in a high percentage of cases of otosclerosis.

The operation was first described at the turn of the century. Interest in it was lost until 1955, when tremendous strides were made in modifying the original idea, by Dr. Samuel Rosen of New York City.

Extensions of his idea have made the present stapedectomy a boon to those for whom there was no medical or surgical hope. The most ingenious techniques are used today in this operation. It is now possible to reopen, in the ear, the pathway for the transmission of sound that has been blocked by otosclerosis.

There are, of course, other types of deafness which are not amenable to this particular type of surgery.

A complete survey of your problem is essential. Rather than live in the shadow of fear that your hearing may be progressively lost, you must make inquiry from your physician and ear specialist and find out if you are one of the ideal candidates for this highly successful type of surgery.

Ermo Bombeck

Mosquito Task Force

I was lying in bed last night when I was awakened by a deafening roar of about 97 decibels over my head. The entire bed shook as I clutched my bedsprings in fear.

A look at the ceiling confirmed my suspicions.

There was a mosquito in the bedroom.

My husband says I overreact to mosquitos. That is because he does not understand that my picture and full description is posted on the walls of a mosquito post office somewhere listed among the "TEN MOST WANTED."

During my lifetime, I have done a lot of thinking and scratching about mosquitos, having been savagely attacked by them on more than one occasion. They are nobody's fools.

In my heart I know that once I am spotted, if it is a male he whispers, "Go get her Mother." (Since only females need the blood to lay eggs.)

Mother defies description but she is somewhere between Ma Barker and The Fly That Ate The Poconos. She raises her right leg, which serves as a powerful antenna and is immediately in contact with a network of mosquitos throughout the world.

I have known messages of my whereabouts to be intercepted in South America ("Un Norteamericano el chubbo. Attack!"), Tokyo ("Kamikaze mosquitos man your samurai swords. Honorable target, Bombeck!"), Germany ("Achtung meine Herren, spritz und weight watchers dropout, Social Security number..."), and Chicago ("Get the turkey!").

Within minutes, there is a task force in the sky that makes the invasion of Normandy look like an impulse.

Mosquitos don't strike right away. They play with me. Whirling around my ears, nesting in my hair, sharpening their proboscis brazenly on my nose. Then they fly up to a height of ten feet, rev up their motors and come in for the kill.

Those for whom mosquitos have no appetite are quick with the home remedies. I have basted my body with repellents only to have mosquitos line up like I was a revolving bowl of chip dip. On the advice of a friend, I tried garlic breath as a deterrent. (The Italian mosquitos loved it and couldn't keep their needles out of me.)

Peeking out of the covers last night I could see several mosquitos positioned at 11 o'clock. It would only be a matter of seconds before they began to dive. In desperation, I put my curler bonnet on my husband and crawled on my hands and knees out of the bedroom.

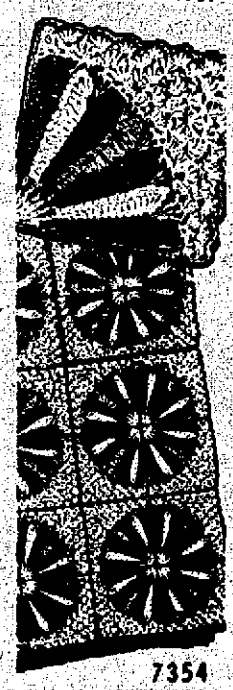

There's no such thing as an honorable withdrawal.

The unlucky expert had use endured again. This time he was all smiles. He chortled, "I think I've finally broken my jinx."

He showed us the North and South cards and said, "You are in four hearts after a two club overcall by West. He leads the king and ace of clubs, East echoes so he continues with the jack. Which one of dummy's trumps do you ruff with?"

We looked the hand over carefully. It was a close choice. The king would be the winning play if East held singleton queen or queen-small; the 10 play right if West held either of those holdings. It was far more likely if hearts broke 3-1 for East to be long so we replied, "The ten spot is the percentage play."

He said, "I figured that out also. It wasn't much better than the king play. Then I thought about my regular bad luck and decided to go against the percentage. I played dummy's king, led low, finessed and made my contract."

Ask the Jacobys

A Minnesota reader asks, "If my opponents bid a grand slam can I bid eight and play the hand there? Doubled, of course!"

The answer is that the laws of contract bridge specifically prohibit such a bid. There are various penalties, but the one really serious one that would require a player who has bid eight hearts over seven spades to bid seven notrump has been left out on the theory that it would be cruel and inhuman punishment.

Roby May Lose Forensic Directorship

YPSILANTI, Mich. (AP) — Dr. Ames Roby is being eased out of his post as director of the state's Center for Forensic Psychiatry here, sources said late Thursday.

Roby has been under investigation by his superiors at the state Mental Health Department for the past two months regarding the release of patients who have been accused of committing crimes.

STATE HONOR: Eli Thomas, a full blooded Chippewa Indian also known as "Chief Little Elk" who lives on reservation land in Mt. Pleasant, has been named Michigan's outstanding senior citizen for community service. He was named during Old-timersville activities at the Michigan State Fair in Detroit Thursday. (AP Wirephoto)

A report on Robey's handling of forensic center cases has been compiled by his superiors and it would be released today, said Joseph McCall, director of communications at the mental health department.

Robey and Dr. Donald Smith, acting director of the mental health department, refused to discuss a meeting the two men conducted earlier in the day. Robey's family refused to disturb the forensic center chief when comment was sought later in the day.

However, several sources said Robey was told he could resign or remain on in a different position as staff psychiatrist in the mental health department.

If he refused to resign and balked at being reassigned, it was understood he might be fired, the sources said.

Robey was suspended June 11 by Smith and mental health department staff pending an investigation of Robey's handling of the Gary Addison Taylor case. Smith emphasized the suspension was not disciplinary and Robey was reinstated late in June.

Taylor, a former mental patient, was released on convalescent leave from the center in July 1972. He later failed to report for scheduled treatment, but his absence went unreported.

Taylor has been linked by police with the deaths of four women in Michigan, Washington and Texas and is has been accused of sexually assaulting four women and a 16-year-old girl in Texas.

Robey also was suspended for two weeks without pay in May and June of 1974 after 15 forensic center inmates escaped in three incidents in a single week.

Robey's handling of other cases involving the release of patients from the center also was part of the review.

McCall said he expects an announcement today regarding Robey.

Robey's June suspension, according to Smith, was made to clear the way for a special five-member panel Smith appointed to review the director's handling of cases at the forensic center.

After Robey resumed his duties, Smith kept the report from the panel under wraps and turned copies over to Gov. William Milliken, saying he launched the probe as an investigation "of possible administrative irregularities."

The forensic center was created in 1966 to aid mentally ill defendants in criminal defendants. Defendants found mentally incompetent to stand trial or who are judged to be not guilty by reason of insanity are sent to the center.

Robey, however, has said many of the patients sent to the center are not legally insane.

The psychiatrist has accused some legal professionals of using criminal competency tests and insanity pleas to avoid imprisonment for their clients.

He maintains one-third of those found not guilty by reason of insanity by Michigan juries display no signs of mental illness when evaluated by forensic center psychiatrists.

U.S. Schools Face A Wave Of Strikes

A fresh wave of teacher strikes will mark the opening of school this year in cities and towns across the country.

New York, Los Angeles and Chicago, the nation's three largest cities, all face possible strikes and a nationwide survey by The Associated Press found contract negotiations stalled in hundreds of smaller school districts. Teachers have scheduled strike votes, printed picket signs and are already marching in some communities.

The National Education Association says that 19 teachers strikes are already in progress, most in small communities. Strikes are considered a possibility in 130 other districts, and the total will probably equal the 40 to 50 strikes the greeted the opening of school last year, NEA officials said.

Teacher salaries remain the main issue in most disputes, AP reporters found. Job security and class size run a close second as school boards fight to trim budgets. Teachers are also fighting to hang on to preparation periods, sabbatical leaves and other fringe benefits won in recent years.

The teacher surplus — unimagined a few years ago — has had a major impact on negotiations.

About 2.1 million teachers will be on hand as an estimated 44.7 million pupils return to public schools this fall. But another 200,000 qualified teachers could not find teaching jobs, including 115,000 of the 220,000 persons who graduated from college last June with teaching degrees, according to federal statistics.

"Job security has become a principal issue in negotiations, especially with the glut of teachers on the market," said Ralph Vatalaro, executive director of the Public Employment Relations Board in New York State. "With the economy bad and school enrollment down, especially in large cities, school boards are trying to cut back on staffs."

Strike threats have been voiced by teachers from New York to San Francisco.

"No contract, no work," say representatives of New York City's 60,000 teachers, and school board and union spokesmen said Thursday they were far apart on a new agreement. A cost-of-living increase is the main issue, and neither side will say what has been offered.

Los Angeles school officials offered teachers a 4.5 per cent pay boost. "The offer was ridiculous and was rejected out of hand," says the teachers' union chief.

The contract of Chicago's 33,000 teachers expires Sunday and leaders of the Chicago Teachers Union have recommended a strike if there is no new agreement before school opens next Wednesday. School officials say 1,500 teaching positions have to go because of reduced state aid and the union isn't happy with what that will do to class size.

San Francisco's school board has voted to increase teaching loads, eliminate teacher preparation periods and reduce contributions to teacher pensions.

James Kramer, head of the San Francisco Classroom Teachers Association, said that unless changes are made before school opens, "unquestionably we will recommend a strike vote to our membership."

Police Have Leads

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — The Saginaw County prosecutors office said Thursday new leads have developed in a triple murder case now more than a week old.

Three members of the Thaxton Schnieder family were found shot to death in their northeast Saginaw home Aug. 21. Killed with Schneider, 47, were his wife, Eleanore, also 47, and their son Danny, 24.

Assistant Prosecutor Mike Thomas said authorities have suspects, but as yet have not issued warrants in the case. However, he said, warrants could be issued Friday or, at the very latest, Tuesday.

Milliken Vetoes Two Measures

Lansing, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken vetoed legislation Thursday which would have exempted banks, credit unions and mortgage companies from a state law banning unfair, deceptive and harrassing tactics in debt collection.

Milliken said the measure would have undermined his attempts to bring mortgage companies under state regulation.

The governor also vetoed a bill which would have given committees of political parties a dominant role in naming members of boards of canvassers and precinct inspectors.

Milliken said the measure would have unfairly minimized the role of election commissions and local clerks who he said ought to be involved in the election process.

The governor said he vetoed the lending bill to exempt financial institutions because mortgage lenders are unregulated in Michigan.

Earlier this year, the governor called on the legislature to draft a new licensing law to bring the firms under tight state control.

"I believe that exemption of non-regulated businesses (the mortgage firms) from the Collection Practices Act would be contrary to good public policy and would disregard the best interest of the consumers of Michigan," Milliken said of the bill. It was sponsored by Rep. George Edwards, D-Detroit, chairman of the House Corporations and Finance Committee.

A similar act signed into law last year prohibits what some consumer groups claim are intimidation tactics in the collection of debts.

Among other things, the law requires proper records be kept to insure lenders do not attempt to collect the same dent twice.

William Rustem, an aide to Milliken, said the state has received complaints about mortgage lenders from many individuals who were forced to pay interest rates of up to 24 per cent annually, just short of the criminally usurious rate of 25 per cent.

"I am not opposed to an exemption for previously regulated businesses," said Milliken.

Rustem said the governor would have "no problem" exempting banks and credit unions from the bill, since their collection practices already are regulated by the financial institutions bureau.

Kissinger Says Shuttle Getting 'Down To Wire'

JERUSALEM (AP) — With the new Israeli-Egyptian agreement expected to be ready for initialing Sunday or Monday, aides say Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger will delay his speech to the United Nations next week so he can wrap up the agreement before leaving.

When he began his mission nine days ago, Kissinger said he intended to address the special U.N. General Assembly session on Sept. 1 or 2 and, if necessary, return to the Middle East to complete the pact.

But aides said that now that an agreement is in sight and no setbacks are anticipated, Kissinger has decided to delay his U.N. speech until next Wednesday, Sept. 3.

Kissinger held another round of talks today with the Israeli negotiating team. Informed sources said he would remain overnight before shuttling back to Alexandria for his fifth meeting with Egyptian President Anwar Sadat during his current mission.

"We are getting down to the wire," Kissinger said Thursday in Alexandria.

NATION CAN SQUEEZE THROUGH PINCH -- FORD

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration, predicting that natural gas shortages could be 30 per cent greater this winter than last, says the nation can squeeze through without major economic damage if there is strong cooperation from Congress and the public.

Federal Energy Administration officials told President Ford and 16 governors who met him on Thursday that natural gas supplies may fall 15 or 16 per cent short of demand this winter on the average, with much worse shortages concentrated in some eastern states.

Meanwhile, White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said Ford still intends to veto a bill extending price controls on domestic oil despite a plea by Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield that he sign it.

Mansfield, who was to meet with Ford today, will try to convince Ford that Congress will pass a compromise acceptable to the White House within 30 to 45 days if the price control extension becomes law, according to a Mansfield aide. The controls expire at midnight Sunday. Nessen said Ford plans to veto the bill after Labor Day.

During Thursday's meetings on natural gas, FEA officials said the shortages could be alleviated through two strategies on which the administration and the governors agreed:

—Energy conservation efforts to cut down waste of natural gas and to free supplies of alternative petroleum fuels.

—Congressional action to restore the Federal Power Commission's authority, previously invalidated by a court, to allow 180-day exemptions from FPC price rules for temporary sales of natural gas.

This would allow interstate pipelines to pay more than the 52 cents per thousand cubic feet now permitted by the FPC for purchases of natural gas from producers, and to compete for supplies of gas now sold within the producing state at prices — free of FPC regulation — ranging from one to two dollars per thousand cubic feet.

Meanwhile, the FPC itself took a step in the same direction Thursday by authorizing high-priority industrial users of natural gas to make direct purchases from gas producers at unregulated prices, again enabling them to compete for supplies in the intrastate markets.

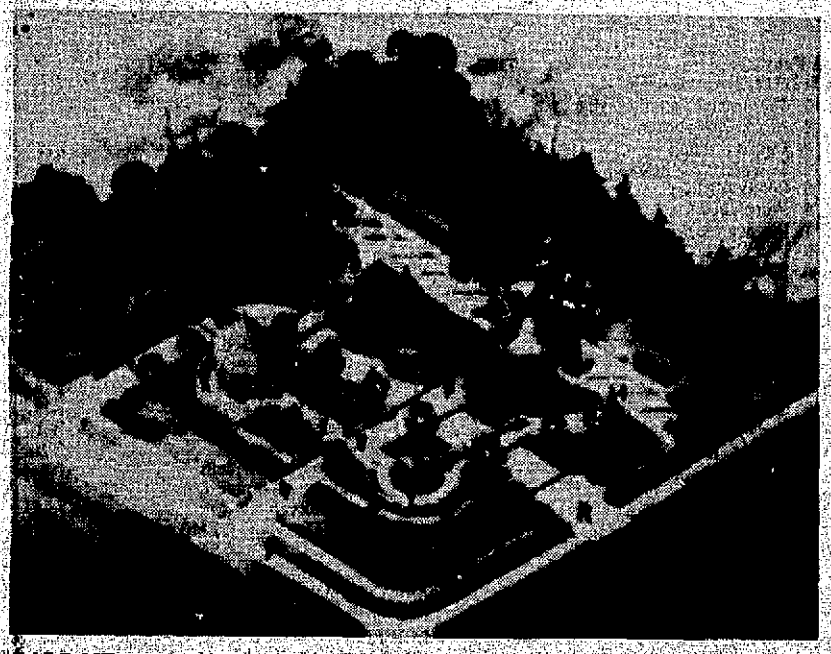

Although the FPC is required by law to regulate interstate natural gas sales, it ruled that its jurisdiction would apply only to the cost of actual transportation of the gas purchased by direct users, out of the producing state.

One of the three voting commissioners, William L. Springer, dissented. He said the policy was only an attempt to get around the requirement to regulate interstate gas prices at the wellhead.

The FPC said its new policy was only experimental and would be dropped if it failed to draw gas supplies from intrastate markets to distant industries faced with shortages.

The Ford administration and the FPC itself have already asked Congress to end FPC regulation of producer-prices of new natural gas supplies, permanently.

But 12 of the g They got no commitment from Ford, but officials said this was the first time the administration had heard the five-year proposal and that it would be considered. The FEA said Ford would soon announce his own proposals for dealing with impending natural gas shortages.

America To Assist Angola Evacuation

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials say American assistance to evacuate Portuguese whites from strife-torn Angola will be furnished "expeditiously and urgently" and that the evacuation could cost as much as $40 million.

Rival African groups in Angola have been fighting among themselves for control of the oil-rich Portuguese colony which is scheduled to become independent Nov. 11, and Portuguese forces there have been unable to guarantee the safety of the white population.

The State Department said Thursday that Portuguese President Francisco da Costa Gomes wrote President Ford on Wednesday and asked for American aid in the evacuation. Pentagon sources estimate it would cost at least $40 million to airlift the remaining 150,000 white settlers from Angola to Portugal.

An important unresolved question is whether African countries would permit airlift planes to fly over their territory enroute. If not, sources say the planes probably would have to fly a dogleg out beyond the bulge of West Africa on an over-water route nearly double the 2,000-mile straight-line distance from Luanda to Lisbon.

State Department spokesman Robert Funseth said the evacuation aid would be carried out "expeditiously and urgently" but gave no specifics. Funseth said money to pay for the operation would come out of disaster relief funds.

However, other State Department sources say there is only about $8 million left in the fund. Therefore, it is unclear how the rest of the financing would be covered.

Anticipating possible orders to mount an airlift, military planners have been studying the problem for some time. Their estimate of more than $40 million is based on an air evacuation of all 150,000 Portuguese whites still in Angola.

Some 50,000 of them were reported by State Department sources as prepared to stay on, but U.S. planners may have to make provision for the larger number in case many of these settlers change their minds.

Bay City Man Wins $200,000

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Frank Swiecicki, a 64-year-old retired electrician from Bay City, was the big winner in this week's televised Michigan lottery "Super Play" drawing.

Swiecicki said he might use his $200,000 top prize to move to Hawaii.

George Edward Klott Jr., 46, of Warren won the $25,000 second prize. Klott is an asbestos worker in Detroit.

Winners of the $10,800 prizes were Diane Downing, 27, a Drayton Plains housewife; Stanislaw Zdyber, 48, of Detroit; and Village Party Store of Detroit, represented by Joseph Carmo, one of its owners.

BIKE HIKE: Bicycle flags sprouted like tulips around the statute of Michigan's "Civil War" Gov. Austin Blair as about 300 bikers gathered at the State Capitol in Lansing Thursday to begin a 330-mile, four-day trip to the Mackinac Bridge. The annual spin up the Lower Peninsula was originated in 1971 by state Sen. Richard Allen, R-Alma, a biking enthusiast. The fifth annual Dick Allen Lansing to Mackinac tour generated a sea of shorts-clad riders on bikes covering the lawn of the Capitol. The bikers were given a mid-morning sendoff from the front steps by John Woodford, director of the state Department of Highways and Transportation. Woodford extolled the agency's efforts in building bicycle paths as well as highways. Allen said he first organized the non-competitive ride to draw attention to legislation needed by bicyclists. The troup, limited to those older than 18, are following back roads and should cross the Mackinac Bridge Sunday night. Thursday's 88-mile leg ended in Mount Pleasant. Other overnight stops are Kirtland Community College, Wolverine High School and St. Ignace. Riders are followed by three vans — one for repair and two "sag wagons" for the tired, said Tom Hardenbergh, president of the sponsoring Tri-County Bicycle Association. (AP Wirephoto)

POSTAL RATE MAKING

Responsive Policy Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the Postal Service looking forward to raising mail rates to 13 cents a letter, Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar says the service "cannot continue to operate" if it is kept from raising rates for long periods.

Bailar spoke after the Postal Rate Commission concluded action Thursday on a two-year-old request by the Postal Service to make the present "temporary" 10-cent letter rate permanent. While the commission has been considering the case, mail rates have been frozen despite postal deficits that have reached $8 million per day.

The commission's recommendation to make the present letter rate permanent was necessary under the law before the Postal Service can increase rates on a temporary basis to 13 cents, Bailar said in advance of the decision that the rate would be increased to 13 cents after the commission action.

Bailar, who has been saying since he took office in February that the Postal Service needs higher rates, renewed his criticism of the commission in a statement.

"I am pleased that the process of this rate case is finally over after nearly two years of discussion and deliberation," he said. "The Postal Service cannot continue to operate if necessary rate adjustments cannot be made until long after they are needed.

"In this case, the rates that the commission at last has recommended are for a (fiscal) year that ended two months ago. In an inflationary period, more responsive rate-making is imperative."

Meanwhile, the chairman of the commission, Clyde S. DuPont, said, "I feel the criticism has been deserved somewhat, although the commission isn't fully to blame for this."

Noting that its decisions are subject to review by the courts, DuPont said the commission must be careful to give all parties to the case every legal safeguard.

The commission, established in 1971 to review all postal rates before they become permanent, had heard one previous rate case.

DuPont said, "We are now in the formative stages. Other regulatory agencies have years and years of precedents to go by but we must set our own. After there is a body of precedents we should be able to decide cases faster."

This care for procedural safeguards led to a series of prehearing conferences, evidentiary hearings, an initial decision by the commission's administrative law judge, filing of briefs and then reply briefs on the judge's decision, more than 2,000 written interrogatories submitted by the 56 parties to the case and oral arguments taking 14,000 pages of transcript.

Other delays were caused by turnover on the commission, DuPont said. Three of the five commissioners were appointed after the case began on Sept. 2, 1973.

"I'm confident we can reduce the time it takes to decide a case. Hopefully, we can cut it in half next time," DuPont said.

Bonn Walking Economic Tightrope

BONN, West Germany (AP) — West Germany's worst postwar recession has put the Bonn government on a tightrope between the devil of unemployment and the deep blue sea of a record budget deficit.

In a move coordinated with French President Valery Giscard d'Estaing, Chancellor Helmut Schmidt's cabinet this week approved a $2.3 billion stopgap spending program to provide jobs for hard-hit construction workers this winter.

The French government also announced a heavy spending program, especially in public works, that is expected to pump an extra $6 billion into the economy.

The Danish goverment, a third member of the European Economic Community, announced Thursday that it planned to spend $240 million on public works and job training, cut retail prices 5 per cent by reducing the value added tax and repay almost $175 million in compulsory savings.

Schmidt and Giscard coordinated their programs at a meeting last month after German unemployment hit over one million, or 4.5 per cent of the work force, and French jobless totaled nearly 900,000, or 4 per cent.

Schmidt's government does not pretend it can do more than help the hard-hit construction industry through the winter season, when some experts believe unemployment could hit a record 1.5 million.

Officials say government spending cannot hope to plug the estimated $11 billion export slump this year caused by the world trade recession.

This is regarded as the chief cause of West Germany's economic woes, but the government expects the U.S. and Japanese economies to lead a worldwide recovery wave late this year.

Inflation is no immediate problem since the annual rate of price rises is steady at an enviable 6.2 per cent. Western Europe's lowest. But the the government budget is strained by high deficit spending aimed at keeping the economy and employment going.

This week's spending program plus new estimates that 1975 tax revenue will be $3.6 billion less than earlier anticipated means that the government must borrow nearly $14 billion — a record — to balance the budget this year.

A deficit of about $15 billion is anticipated in 1976, more than four times last year's $3.5 billion.

To prevent the budget gap from reaching uncontrollable levels, Schmidt's cabinet is working on what could turn out to be the country's most drastic budget-cutting program since World War II.

Unconfirmed reports said the $63.8 billion budget planned for 1976 may be slashed by $740 million to $1.85 billion, with heavier cuts to come in the two years afterward.

Government spokesmen said an austerity program for the 1976-79 period will force the government to cut guaranteed social security payments, requiring Schmidt to get parliamentary authorization.

Newspapers speculate that the cuts might affect special tax and medical benefits for farmers, education grants and even financial privileges enjoyed by civil servants.

A government advisory panel of five leading experts predicted this month that the gross national product will increase sharply by 6 per cent in 1976 after dropping 3 per cent this year. It also predicted inflation would drop from 6 per cent to between 4 and 5 per cent next year.

Statistics don't show upward signs yet, however. Export trade slid in the January-July period from $11 billion to $8.6 billion. As demand for German goods abroad slumped, steel production in the first seven months of the year declined 19.5 per cent below the same period in 1974, and auto production dropped 11.1 per cent.

ON TRACK: Edward Goodman, 58, of East Tawas, has been appointed by State Highway commission to develop and direct railroad inter-city passenger service in Michigan. He's veteran of 38 years of railroad administration, the last five as president of Detroit and Mackinac Railway.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — "You're making a big mistake," Mary Messer told the man pointing a gun at her and demanding money. "The last man got 10 years," added the convenience store clerk. The would-be robber, taking her words to heart, turned and fled.

Veteran Detective Captures His Son

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — There was relief for two parents whose toddlers were held hostage by a suspect in a bank holdup. But for Sylvester Young, a veteran homicide detective, the pain is beginning anew.

Sylvester Young Jr., 36, an ex-convict out of prison less than a year, is back in jail as a suspect in the holdup.

The detective, summoned to an east side residential neighborhood early Thursday, found himself involved in one of the most unusual and traumatic assignments in his 23 years on the force.

There had been a bank holdup — $80,000 was taken — and police had traced the getaway vehicle to a home where two little girls, aged 19 months and 2 years, were taken hostage.

Young got on a telephone in a nearby residence and called the house which, in short time, was under siege by more than 100 heavily armed policemen supported by an armored tactical vehicle.

He talked with his son. "Many, many phone calls took place," Police Chief Joseph D. McNamara said later.

Sylvester Young asked his son to let the children go.

Similar pleas were made on the telephone by one of the mothers, by Michael Young, another son of the detective, and by McNamara. The police chief quoted Sylvester Young Jr. as saying he did not want to return to prison.

After nearly two hours of telephone conversations, the front door of the house opened and the children — Tamika Figures, 2, daughter of Jewel Figures, and Nekeidra Figures, 19 months, daughter of Florence Figures — walked past a phalanx of police officers to safety. The two girls are cousins.

The telephone conversations resumed, the man in the house indicating his hopelessness about life again behind bars. In 1962 he had been sentenced for theft and robbery and had been released just last September.

Finally it was agreed that detective Young and his other son would approach the house. Police guns trained on the house backing them up as they walked down the sidewalk, but the veteran cop motioned them back.

The Youngs stood before the house and Sylvester Jr., stepped out, his fingers interlocked behind his neck. He joined his family and they were whisked from the scene in a patrol car.

Police fired tear gas into the house in hopes of flushing out two other suspects in the robbery, but the house was empty. An FBI spokesman said officers recovered $50,000 of the $80,000 from the residence. Some of it had been burned in a basket and on the stove.

The drama opened at 8 a.m. when two men and a woman approached employes of the Central Bank of Kansas City as they entered the building. Inside they pulled handguns and ordered the vault opened.

Police said a witness outside the bank copied the license number of the getaway car as it sped off. Sgt. William Hudson chased a vehicle matching the description of the getaway car and, after getting it to stop, exchanged shots with the occupants. His patrol car was disabled when it was struck by gunfire in the radiator.

Police in a helicopter later spotted the car parked in brush alongside the east side residence, a tarpaulin pulled partially over it.

Police today continued their search for a woman and the other man sought in the robbery.

An FBI spokesman said Sylvester Young Jr. probably will be brought before a U. S. magistrate to be charged today.

Berrien Springs Offer Is Ready

BERRIEN SPRINGS — In a special meeting last night, the Berrien Springs school board gave its approval to a contract to be offered to the Berrien Springs Education association.

The teachers have yet to approve the one-year contract school officials said. Teachers are to vote on the contract Sept. 3.

The board-approved contract provides 5.5 per cent pay boosts for all teachers.

The new scale will be about $485 higher for a beginning teacher with a bachelor's contract. Last year a beginning teacher received $8,775.

Beginning salary for a teacher with a master's degree was raised from $8,740 to $9,275.

In other action, the board agreed to sell a house the school's building and trades class built last year.

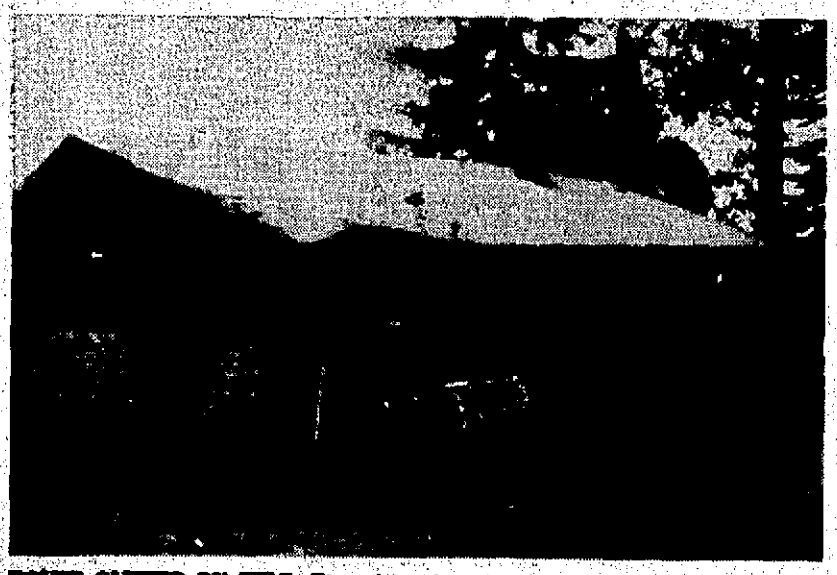

The house is to be sold to Mr. and Mrs. George Javor of Berrien Springs for $42,000 and will provide the district with about a $1,000 profit, school officials said.

The profit will go towards tools and equipment for the building and trades class, officials said.

Firm Proposed For Sewer Study

By TOM RENNER
South Haven Correspondent

SOUTH HAVEN — The city Board of Public Utilities (BPU) last night recommended to city council the hiring of a Grand Haven engineering firm to prepare a facilities analysis of the city's sewer system.

John Kistler & Associates, Inc. was the lowest of four bidders at $22,500 to prepare the study as the first step in qualifying for federal and state funds to undertake a cooperative sewer project with Casco and South Haven townships.

The city and South Haven township have been negotiating for several years on the possibility of extending city sewer lines into the township. The state government has said the study, known as the Step I Facilities Plan, is required to determine the capabilities and condition of the city's existing system.

Eighty per cent of the cost of the survey would be borne by the state and federal governments according to city manager Albert Pierce.

In a related matter, Pierce distributed correspondence between himself and representatives of the Department of Natural Resources in which he has volunteered to have the city be declared the lead applicant for the Step I grant instead of South Haven township. Pierce noted in his letter that the township government leadership is currently unstable due to the recall of Supervisor Clifford Klapp and Trustee Donald Getman.

Pierce indicated that designating the city as lead applicant "would be advantageous to all parties concerned, considering that the township does not have the administrative staff or facilities to handle a project of this size."

Pierce said he had notified by a DNR spokesman that designating the city as the lead applicant would require approval by the township board. Pierce told BPU members he would write the township board to seek their approval.

In other action, the BPU recommended to council the approval of a $9,963 bid from the Charles E. Schuler Eng. Co. of Newark, Ohio for steel to construct an additional bay at the Lovejoy electric substation.

The board also recommended approval of the $3,363 bid of Don Woodhams Ford of South Haven for a half-ton pickup for the water filtration plant.

Mystery Ship Heads For The Sea

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The mystery ship Glomar Explorer has left Catalina Island off the coast of California amid speculation it will again try to raise a sunken Russian submarine in the mid-Pacific.

The Explorer, registered to billionaire recluse Howard Hughes but owned by the federal government, got underway about noon Thursday and headed north, said George Hanson of the Catalina Cove and Camp Agency. He has been watching the ship since it arrived at the resort island about 30 miles off Los Angeles.

The vessel was joined by its companion five-story submersible barge, the HMB1, which accompanied the Explorer last summer when it tried to raise a Soviet sub 750 miles northwest of Hawaii.

Sewage Plan Approved By Niles Township

Action Saves $7.5 Million In Federal Assistance

By JOHN DYE
South Berrien Bureau

NILES — Fearful of losing a $7.5 million federal grant, the Niles township board yesterday unanimously approved plans for a $13 million sewage collection system for the township.

Approval of the controversial plan came after a 5½-hour public hearing held in the Brandywine high school. The hearing was attended by about 225 people.

Most of those who addressed the board voiced objections to the plan.

The 7-0 vote also set special assessment roles for the sewage collection system that will serve an estimated 70 per cent of the residential, commercial and industrial property owners in the township.

Niles township Supervisor John McDonald said the board was in sympathy with those who had objected to the plan. Objectors claimed that not all areas in the project needed sewers and the costs of assessments and tap-in fees were too high.

But the supervisor added that when the board was informed that any delay in the project to further study the plans might result in the loss of federal funds, it voted to approve the project.

McDonald said he had written the state Department of Natural Resources asking what the results of a delay might be, and was informed the DNR would recommend to the federal Environmental Protection Agency that it withdraw the grant.

The DNR added that it would go to court if necessary to force construction of the system, even if the township had to pay for the entire cost of the project, McDonald added.

"If they can't afford $800, they can't afford $2,400, and that's what the system would cost without the federal grants," McDonald said.

The supervisor said property owners would be charged $400 for a tap-in fee and $400 for the first 112 feet of sewage line running across their lots. A $10 per month service fee will be charged users once the system is completed.

McDonald said that petitions with some 3,000 signatures opposing the plan were presented at the township hall prior to the hearing, but the signatures were not legal documents and state law provides no clause for a public vote on the project. The township was ordered in 1971 by the state to build the system.

The remaining $4.8 million for the project will be raised by issuing revenue bonds. The bonding proposal has already been approved by the Berrien county board of commissioners and the county will own the system until the bonds are paid off, McDonald said.

The county board of public works can now proceed with advertising for bids on the project. Bids are scheduled to be opened on Sept. 30, McDonald said.

The system will exclude land located in the far north and west sections of the township, McDonald said. The land excluded is primarily agricultural, he added.

The township collection system is part of a two-phase project that also calls for a $20 million improvement and expansion project for the Niles city sewage treatment plant. The sewage collected in the township will be treated at the city plant.

The county board of commissioners has also approved bonding the city project for $5.1 million, with remaining funds for the city plan also granted by the EPA.

The hearing was held at the high school because the crowd exceeded the capacity of the township hall, the supervisor said.

HEAR OBJECTIONS: Members of Niles township board yesterday listened to objections to proposed $13 million sewage collection system before voting approval of project at conclusion of 5½-hour hearing. Board members told about 225 residents at hearing that township would lose $7.5 million federal grant if there were any delays. Hearing was held at Brandywine high school. (Staff photo)

DOWAGIAC — City police here say items valued at around $2,000 were reported taken from the home of Mrs. Fred Horner, 504 MacPhil drive, here last night as Mrs. Horner was away visiting a neighbor.

Mrs. Horner told police that she had been out of the house for about four hours, and upon returning around 10 p.m., noticed her lock box was missing from her bedroom chest of drawers.

She said a watch valued at between $300 and $400; silver coins valued at between $300 and $400; four rings valued at between $600 and $1,000; plus some silver certificates and two dollar bills, value unknown, all in the lock box, were missing.

Police said she apparently left her home unlocked while visiting neighbors.

ROAD FUND HEARING IN ST. JOSEPH

State, Local Officials Split On Proposal

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

Opinions of state and county officials differed sharply yesterday during a public hearing on a proposed state bill which would cut funds from the State Highway department and give more road money to counties.

The divided testimony came during one of two public hearings held by the Town and Counties committee of the Michigan House of Representatives at the courthouse in St. Joseph.

The House bill which stirred the most controversy was one which would adjust the state motor vehicle highway fund distribution formula and send an additional 1½ per cent — or some $8 million — to the counties for use on county roads. The money would be cut from the State Highway Department's share.

The other bill, which drew testimony from a number of fire chiefs from various fire departments throughout the county, seeks to create a municipal fire insurance rate classification advisory board to establish criteria in determining fire insurance rate classifications for Michigan communities.

The highway tax bill drew eight speakers — five of whom supported the bill and three who strongly opposed it. All three represented state agencies involved with highways.

"Berrien county has to favor such an approach," Thomas Webb, engineer-manager for the Berrien road commission, said of the proposed bill.

The bill calls for a change in the distribution formula in which the state highway department, which now gets 44.5 per cent of the fund, would receive 43 per cent and counties would be lifted from 35.7 per cent to 37.2 per cent. The monies going to counties are divided among all 83 of the state's counties.

Webb, outside of the hearing, said the Berrien road commission now receives about $3.6 million from the fund towards its budget of about $5.5 million. He said the additional 1½ per cent, when divided among all the counties, would not be a great deal.

"It wouldn't be a bonanza but it would be welcome," he noted.

Another portion of the bill would also enable many counties to receive more money by altering the classification of county roads. Presently, of the total amount returned to road commissions, 10 per cent is allotted for counties which have primary roads within the boundaries of urban areas, with the rest disbursed on the basis of rural county primary and county local road mileage.

The proposed bill would add a classification based on medium density roads — essentially those which are not in designated urban areas but still have enough traffic usage not to be rural. Many suburban roads would meet this classification.

Webb noted that of the 1,400 miles of county roads in Berrien, about 400 miles are classified as primary roads, and about 200 miles are in urban areas. He said under the proposed bill about 280 more miles in the county would fall under the medium density designation.

Two other witnesses, representing road interests in Ottawa and Kalamazoo counties, also supported the bill, especially favoring the medium density portion.

Most opposition yesterday came from Harnes Meyers, Jr., a member of the State Highway Commission, who said he felt the state highway system should continue to get the same percentage as before since state highways are used by all state residents and provide the best return for each dollar spent.

He told the House committee a cutback would "have a considerable and adverse effect on (state highway) programs."

"The department's overall position is against the bill," Meyers stated, a position supported by two representatives of the state highway department, who also spoke against the bill.

Meyers, however, conceded the idea of a medium density designation "is an excellent concept."

Rep. Harry Gast, Jr., of St. Joseph, predicted near the end of testimony: "I think we will enact legislation of this type." Gast is a member of the Towns and Counties committee.

Rep. Francis Spaniola, D-Corunna, who sponsored the bill, said many counties and citizens are "crying out" for help to better county roads, and "I think this bill is the first open attempt to discuss the problem."

The other bill seeks to establish an eight-member municipal fire insurance rate classification board. The classifications are now imposed by the Insurance Services Office (ISO), which is an arm of the insurance industry.

The committee noted many smaller towns and villages in rural areas are dissatified with the current system used to rank municipalities, with a common complaint being ISO rules are often too rigid and outdated.

Most of the fire chiefs who testified yesterday felt more representatives of fire fighting personnel should be on the new board, and complained of strict and antiquated ISO regulations.

Kennedy Says Delay Of School Aid Bill Stirs Strike Turmoil

By TOM RENNER
South Haven Correspondent

SOUTH HAVEN — State legislators could ease the emotionalism of threatened teacher strikes close to the start of a school year by simply approving the school financial aid package earlier than it does, State Representative Bela Kennedy of Bangor says.

Kennedy expressed himself during an interview with this newspaper on the status of teacher-strike legislation. A bill that would have legalized teachers strikes was vetoed by the governor.

"The lack of a firm state budget has caused problems for local schools," Kennedy said. "How can they bargain intelligently without knowing their resources?"

The Republican representative said there has been a tendency on the part of negotiating teams for both school systems and teachers to wait until the last minute to bargain seriously because they don't know the financial picture for the upcoming year.

"The teachers don't want to settle on last year's budget and the administrators don't want to guess with the risk of coming up short."

Opposed to teacher-strike legislation, Kennedy said the bill would have established a precedent legalizing the right of all public employees to strike.

He said the proposed legislation would have mandated a strike before binding arbitration could be ordered.

Kennedy said he also opposed the "free" strike period in which striking teachers would not have lost pay for the first two weeks.

The bill, according to Kennedy, was written to cover all public school employes, not just teachers.

"What would have stopped bus drivers, then custodians and so on from striking right after the teachers settled? You could have chaos in a school system," he said.

Kennedy said he was especially disheartened that later versions of the teacher-strike bill were written by lobbyists, primarily from the United Auto Workers (UAW). The final version of the bill was opposed by both the Michigan Education Association (MEA) and Michigan Association of School Boards (MASB).

Kennedy said the power of the UAW in the House is "awesome".

"Their man (the UAW's lobbyist) gives signals to legislators on the floor as to how they should vote," Kennedy said.

The representative estimated that the UAW controls about 56 votes in the House.

"The thing that bothers me most is that many legislators don't vote their convictions," he said.

Kennedy predicted there would not be any teacher strikes this fall in his district.

Rentzel's Troubled Grid Career May Be At End

FULLERTON, Calif. (AP) — At one point in his troubled football career, Lance Rentzel commented: "Everyone has his share of problems in life. I have learned that it's not what happens to you, but how you react that counts."

Today, the one-time star wide receiver once again can reflect on that statement. His comeback from a one-year suspension, imposed in 1973 by National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle as the outgrowth of a marijuana charge, has apparently come to an end.

The Los Angeles Rams, stocked with a flock of talented receivers — Harold Jackson, Jack Snow, Ron Jessie and speedster Willie McGee — placed the 31-year-old Rentzel on waivers Thursday.

"The primary reason for waiving Rentzel was the competitive situation," said Rams General Manager Don Klosterman. He declined to specify any other reasons.

Eight years ago, after being traded from the Minnesota Vikings to the Dallas Cowboys, Rentzel rose to prominence as one of the league's most dangerous receivers.

In 1967, he snared 56 passes, including eight for touchdowns. A year later, more of the same — 54 receptions and six TDs. In 1969, he led the league in touchdown receptions with 12 and in yards-per-catch with an 22-yard average.

On top of everything else, there was glamour, too. He was married in 1969 to dancer-singer Joey Heatherton. Publicity, it was a dream-like existence.

Then came the problems.

In 1970, he was arrested for indecent exposure in an incident involving a 10-year-old girl in Dallas. An indictment followed swiftly and, after pleading guilty, he received a five-year probated sentence. The probation terms provided that Rentzel receive medical and psychiatric care.

The shaggy-haired athlete's fall from grace had begun.

He was traded to the Rams for two players before the 1971 season and attempted to recon struct his life.

In 1971 he caught 35 passes, but that tailed off to 27 in 1972. His touchdown production dropped from six to two.

He and Miss Heatherton separated and were divorced. Then came the marijuana charge, and the suspension.

On Jan. 11, 1973, he was arrested and charged with possessing marijuana for sale in Los Angeles. He pleaded guilty and was ultimately sentenced to 90 days in jail and fined $2,000.

He was placed on three years probation and suspended by Rozelle for conduct detrimental to the league.

Last season, coming back yet another time, he caught just 18 passes. But again the talent showed through. Explosive as ever, he led the Rams, the National Conference's West Division champions, with an average of 22 yards per catch.

This year, he was engaged in an intense fight to hold his place on the squad. His chances appeared on the rise when another receiver, Otto Stowe, unexpectedly announced his retirement last week.

Then came Thursday's announcement. If no other team claims him by the end of the waiver period late today, he will become a free agent.

Pistons Now Eyeing ABA Star

Bing Trade Official

DETROIT (AP) — Dave Bing, the captain and all-time leading scorer of the Detroit Pistons, was traded Thursday to the Washington Bullets for 1974-75 National Basketball Association assist leader Kevin Porter.

In addition, the Pistons gave the Bullets their first-round draft choice in 1977.

Bing's departure from the Pistons was expected. At the conclusion of last season, club owner Bill Davidson told the 31-year-old guard he would be traded.

Bing tried unsuccessfully to renegotiate his contract last year. He also had blasted the Piston management for cutting veteran forward Don Adams.

"It's a trade we had to make," said Ray Scott, Detroit coach and director of player personnel. He called Bing and Porter "great players," but said he would have nothing further to say about Bing.

"Dave Bing is no longer Detroit Pistons," he said.

In another development, it was reported the Pistons were attempting to obtain Dwight "Bo" Lamar, who played last season with San Diego of the American Basketball Association.

The Detroit Free Press said Lamar's attorney wants to rescind Lamar's contract because he claims the club failed to live up to its promises.

The attorney, Louis Schaffel, said he would know within three weeks whether Lamar, who averages 20 points a game, would be available. The Pistons hold the NBA rights to Lamar.

The Pistons confirmed they had spoken with Schaffel about obtaining Lamar, but would speculate on chances of signing him.

There are two years remaining on Lamar's contract with the Sells, who have been in and out of financial problems. Lamar was a star at Southwest Louisiana State before joining the ABA two seasons ago.

The addition of Bing delighted the Bullets.

"I think we've got the best backcourt that there's ever been in basketball," Washington General Manager Bob Ferry said at Landover, Md., where the Bullets held a news conference to introduce their new player.

"I don't think there ever was a backcourt as talented as this one," continued Ferry.

Bing will join All-Star Phil Chenier and former American Basketball Association All-Star Jimmy Jones in the Bullets' backcourt.

"I think Bing and Chenier will complement each other very well," said Washington Coach K.C. Jones.

"I wanted to be here," said Bing, whose Detroit contract permitted him to approve any trade. "I wanted to be part of a great team, a championship team, and I got what I wanted."

The Bullets made it to the league playoff finals last spring, but lost to the Golden State Warriors.

Porter, at a news conference here, said the obvious comparisons with Bing would give him "a positive attitude to play the game even harder."

Scott described Porter as a "hard-nosed fiery-type of basketball player — a fighter."

The Piston coach said the draft choice was included in the deal because the Bullets felt Bing, who turns 32 in November, may be able to play only two or three more years.

"There would be no compensation to them after that period," Scott said. "The only way they could see the deal is that we would have Kevin Porter who is 25 years of age and has at least another seven or eight years ahead of him. So the way to complete the deal was to give them compensation over that time."

The 5-foot-11 Porter topped the league in assists last year, averaging eight per game. However, his scoring average is only about half the 23.6-a-game clip achieved by Bing during his nine seasons with Detroit.

Scott said he was not concerned about the scoring disparity, saying Porter's responsibilities would be "to set up our big men."

Bing, a six-time NBA all-star, leaves Detroit after achieving team records in nine departments, including games (675), field goals (5,772), assists (4,330), points (15,235) and scoring average.

SJ's Chris Knapp Joining White Sox

CHICAGO — Chris Knapp is going to be a White Sox.

This newspaper learned Thursday that Knapp, from St. Joseph, will join the White Sox on Labor Day when the Sox take on the Kansas City Royals at White Sox Park in a doubleheader.

CHRIS KNAPP

Knapp, Chicago's first round selection in baseball's free agent draft last June, will be called up from Appleton (Wis.). Appleton is the Sox' entry in the Class A Midwest League.

"He's going to pitch tonight in Appleton's last game of the season and then he'll join the Sox on Labor Day," revealed George Sobek, assistant farm director for the Sox.

Major league teams can expand their rosters from 25 to 40 players from Sept. 1 through the end of the season.

Knapp, a former Lakeshore high pitching whiz, has turned in a super effort since joining Appleton early in June.

The hard-throwing right-hander is currently 6-5 for the season with an ERA of 2.04. He has fanned 87 batters and allowed only 46 hits and 18 earned runs in 79 innings. He has walked 41.

In his latest outing Monday against Wisconsin Rapids, Knapp took a 1-0 loss but in seven innings he struck out nine and gave up only five hits.

Appleton is mired in last place in the Northern Division of the Midwest League.

The Sox open a nine game home stand starting Monday night against the Royals. Minnesota and California will also make stops during the stand.

Knapp, the 11th player selected of a total of 384 in the June draft, also was a standout hurler at Kalamazoo Valley Community College and Central Michigan. He graduated from CMC last spring.

Knapp is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wes Knapp of St. Joseph.

Players Agree To Vote On Management Offer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The end may be in sight in the long National Football League dispute over a new players' contract. But then again, it may be just the beginning of another phase.

The NFL Players Association membership will vote next Friday on any management offer presented by Monday after a decision made by the union's executive council and disclosed Thursday.

If the players vote to accept the offer — which has not been announced yet — then the contract dispute is for all intents and purposes resolved.

However, should the players reject the management offer, the executive committee would then return to the bargaining table for further negotiations which have dragged on for 1½ years since the old collective bargaining agreement expired.

Ed Garvey, union executive director, told newsmen Thursday that the vote Friday would not be a "strike vote."

"If they reject it, they are telling management they want a better offer," said Garvey.

The association's player representatives met in Chicago Monday and voted unanimously to submit to the membership without recommendation any proposal that was on the table as of next Monday.

"This dispute has dragged on for well over a year and a half and the (player reps) are anxious to have the matter resolved," said Garvey. "Since the owners have been unwilling to come forward with a complete proposal, we felt that by setting the first of September as the deadline for an offer to be submitted to the players, the owners would be encouraged to bargain with the players' negotiating committee. The vote will be taken on the fifth of September."

Garvey said representatives of the NFL Management Council, the owners' bargaining agent, met with union officials after the player rep meeting and "indicated a full proposal would be forthcoming prior to or on the 1st of September."

He said union president Kermit Alexander explained it would be submitted to the membership for a vote and "suggested that they give it their 'best shot.'"

In New York, a management council representative said the owners were still considering what action to take and could make a decision today.

The players have been without a collective bargaining agreement since March 31, 1974, when the old pact expired. The players held a 42-day strike last year but returned to play the season.

Toronto Gets QB

TORONTO (AP) — Quarterback Ken Ploutard, recently cut by the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League, has joined the Toronto Argonauts for a Sunday Canadian Football League tryout.

Ploutard, a native of Nashville, Tenn., who played college ball at Tennessee State, was the final quarterback cut last year by the NFL Kansas City Chiefs.

College Stars Grab U.S. Am Spotlight

Strange, Bean Both Advance

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The 75th U.S. Amateur Golf Championship, now closely resembling an NCAA tournament, will be trimmed to eight quarter-finalists after two rounds of match play today at the Country Club of Virginia's James River Course.

Two-thirds of the 32 survivors from Thursday's third round are collegians, and a couple other competitors are just out of high school. Only four of those still shooting for Sunday's 36-hole title round are 30 years of age or more.

Curtis Strange and Bob Byman of Wake Forest, Andy Bean of Florida, Arizona State's Phil Kenny and Keith Fergus of Houston were among the better-known college stars who advanced through the third round.

So did Stan Price of Pittsburgh and Barton Goodwin of Rice, both of whom had gained notoriety Wednesday with major upsets.

Other winners included Boone Puett of Austin, Tex., at 42 now the oldest survivor after he disposed of 50-year-old Bill Hyndman 1 up in 19 holes, and 18-year-old Wayne DeFrancesco of McLean, Va.

In addition to Hyndman, the 1955 runner-up on the same course, the only other former runners-up, John Grace of Fort Worth, Tex., and Downing Gray of Pensacola, Fla., also were eliminated.

With the only two former champions, Vinny Giles of Richmond and Bill Campbell of Huntington, W.Va., knocked out earlier, the way has been cleared for new faces in the title round.

Strange, 20, from Virginia Beach, Va., who won the NCAA crown as a freshman, remained unsatisfied with his play after ousting John Jacobs IV of Riverside, Calif., 4 and 2.

But Strange, who broke the Eastern Amateur record by four strokes two weeks ago, won five consecutive holes on the back side, aided by a 120foot eagle on the 13th green.

Byman, also 20, from Raleigh, N.C., routed Brian Shanks of Phoenix with his second straight 8 and 6 score.

Bean, a rugged 22-year-old L'il Abner type from Lakeland, Fla., showed his strength by whacking a seven-iron shot 200 yards to the first green, and went on to whip Gary Jacobson of Minnetonka, Minn., 3 and 2.

Kenny, 22, from Northbrook, Ill., said he "put pressure on when I felt it was needed," and bumped Grace, 2 and 1.

Fergus, 21, who lives in Houston, was eliminated in the fifth round last year by Jerry Pate, the eventual champion. He reached that same plateau Thursday with a 4 and 3 victory over Peter Wallenborn III of Roanoke, Va.

Price, who upended Giles, the 1975 British Amateur champion, a day earlier, struggled with a 10-over-par 80 but edged past William Voyles of Marietta, Ga., 1 up, with a six-foot birdie on the final hole.

Goodwin, who swept past veteran Dale Morey on Wednesday, continued his march with a 5 and 3 decision over Michael McBride of Ridgewood, N.J.

In addition to Puett, the other relative old-timers still in the competition include Jack Veghte, 40, of Clearwater, Fla.; Robert Bilko, 33, Beltsville, Md., and Dennis Spencer, 33, Sylvania, Ohio.

Bilko survived an incredible 18th hole putt by Brad Fabel of Madisonville, Ky. to win 1 up on the 19th.

Danley New Coach

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Rick Danley, 23, has been named interim gymnastics coach for the University of Colorado, it was announced Thursday.

Danley will fill in for Dave Wardell, who has taken a one-year leave of absence to work towards a doctorate in physical education at the University of Utah.

BASKETBALL

DETROIT — The Detroit Pistons sent veteran guard Dave Bing and their No. 1 pick in the 1977 National Basketball Association draft to the Washington Bullets in exchange for guard Kevin Porter.

GOLF

RICHMOND, Va. — All-American Curtis Strange from Wake Forest advanced through the third round of the U.S. Amateur Golf Championships with a 4 and 2 victory over John Jacobs of Riverside, Calif.

Area Players Bolster Chips

CMU Seeking To Be MAC Contender

MT. PLEASANT — What do you do for an encore when your team goes 12-1 and wins the NCAA Division Two championship?

Coach Roy Kramer and Central Michigan University would like to just be in the thick of the Mid-American Conference race this season as his graduation losses outnumber his returning lettermen in quality football players.

To help bolster the Chips, Kramer has five gridders from Southwestern Michigan, four of them freshman, who could see action in this season's campaign.

The only returner from the area is Dowagiac defensive tackle Steve Smallbone (6-2, 220). The sophomore saw limited action last season but is currently running in the number two tackle spot behind senior John Neuman in preseason practice.

Two of the first-year men that have made good early impressions are Ed Dow of Paw Paw and St. Joseph's Mike Ryan. Dow (6-4, 205) is getting a good look at backup splitend as injuries and reshuffling have depleted that corp.

Ryan (6-1, 180) is vying with three other freshman for back up berths in the defensive secondary.

Eau Claire's Taylor Lanier (6-0, 190) has been bounced around on offense and defense and is currently playing at the tailback position. Mark Salasky from South Haven is running at the number four quarterback spot but his good passing arm could move him up soon.

Kramer's biggest job is to find a replacement for everybody's all-everything quarterback Mike Franckowiak. He passed for 1,302 yards, rushed for 554 more and scored 140 points, either on the ground, the air or with his foot, that's all.

Franckowiak's number one pass catcher, Matt Means, also graduated. He caught 55 passes for 848 yards and six touchdowns.

All is not on the dismal side for Central, though. Returning is Walt Hodges (5-10, 200), last season's top rusher. The senior tailback ran for 1,093 yards in 209 carries for an amazing 5.7 yard average. Junior upback Dick Dunham also returns and could give the Chips one of the best inside-outside running tandems in the MAC.

The other two spots in Kramer's backfield, the quarterback and swingback, will be manned by some inexperienced personnel. Ron Rummel (5-11, 195) is the number one signal caller but his game experience is at best minimal. Last season, the sophomore netted four yards in five rushing attempts and completed one pass for eight yards.

Junior Paul Fleszar was slated to start at swingback but has been converted to a defensive back so Mose Rison (5-10, 165) inherits the spot. The sophomore gained 278 yards on 63 carries last year.

Half of the offensive line that was instrumental in last year's 316 yards-per-game rushing average returns. Senior center Wes Gamble (5-11, 225), junior guard John Kloc (6-1, 225) and senior tackle Mike Szymarek (6-3, 250) will anchor one side but the other players on the line are still in doubt.

Kramer's major concern on defense is the end spots on the five-man line. The tackles are solid with Neuman and John Wunderlich (6-2, 205) starting and Smallbone backing both up. Senior Henry Binkowski has moved from tackle to middle guard.

The defensive secondary is also causing some problems for Central. The Chips lost their number one saftey, junior Fred Kenny, early in practice with an injury. So sophomore Ed Rykulski (5-11, 195) has been switched from defensive back to saftey.

Central will start the season with three MAC games in its first four contests including home games on Sept. 6 with Western Michigan and on Sept. 13 against Ohio University. The Chips travel to Toledo on Sept. 27.

The Broncos will come into town hoping to revenge a 42-6 pounding they received last season in front of 24,235 fans at Waldo Stadium in Kalamazoo, the largest home crowd ever to watch a Bronco game.

Kramer is not taking the Broncos lightly even though they were just 3-8 last season. "They've been running around at Western yelling beat Central for six months now," grinned Kramer. "Almost anything can happen."

The last time Western Michigan visited Mt. Pleasant was in 1973 when it beat the Chips 18-13 in the dedication game of their new stadium. The Broncos hold a 33-11-1 series edge.

Youthful Shamrocks Counting On Speed

BERRIEN SPRINGS — You can't blame Al Bush for looking at the future prospects of his Berrien Springs football team.

Twenty of this year's 36-player roster are underclassmen. While this may not be the year of the Shamrock, Bush is still not counting Berrien out of the Red Arrow race.

"We have more depth than we've ever had," Bush says. "But we're very young. We're not very big, but we're pretty quick. Speed will have to be our thing.

"If everyone matures fast enough we should be as good as anyone. It all depends on how fast these young men come along. We're definitely building for a peak year next season."

When Bush talks about speed, he's not kidding. Almost everyone in the starting lineup runs the 40-yard dash in under 5.2 seconds. Incredibly both starting offensive guards, Rick Sanders and Jeff Spitzer, run it in under 5.0 seconds.

"I've never coached a team faster than this," Bush said. "Since our biggest asset is speed, we're going to have to utilize it. We plan to run a triple option and throw more. We have three pretty good passers."

Bush has four candidates for quarterback including junior Jack Lewis, a husky 6-4, 200-pound transfer student from Texas. Seniors Barry Adams and Kirk Hansen, who alternated at the position last year, and Dan Boswell, up from the junior varsity team, are also competing for the starting signal caller slot.

Jim Bates, a second team all-Red Arrow pick last year, is back at tailback but is receiving stiff competition from junior Bob White. White, at 5-11, 165, is considered the fastest player on the team with a clocking of 4.8 seconds in the 40.

Four players are in the running for the fullback position. Heading the list is junior Roger Johnson, who scored 15 touchdowns on the junior varsity last year.

"Johnson is an extra quick runner," Bush says. "He can run the 100 in under 11 seconds and is incredibly strong for a kid that quick."

Mitch Sluder, also a junior, senior Mike Ameling and sophomore Tom Michienzi are also in the running.

The Shamrock line is pretty well set. Jay Carter (5-11, 200) and Ron Disselberger (6-0, 170) are stationed at the tackle slots, with Sanders (5-10, 180) and Spitzer (5-10, 180) at the guards and Doug Ewalt (6-1, 170) performing as the center.

Ted Archer, a 6-0, 175-pound senior, is expected to get the call at one end position. Senior Jeff Stover (5-10, 175) was expected to be the other end but sustained rib injuries in a recent auto accident. His availability is unknown. Don Clem (5-10, 160) will start if Stover is unable.

"We have a lot of speed and good depth," Bush says. "We're hoping to go with a two-platoon system so we won't have to worry about some of the injuries that other teams will.

"I think we have the personnel to win the league. With two-platoon system we might be able to out-endure people."

EMU Loses Quarterback

YPSILANTI, Mich. (AP) — Steve Raklovits, Eastern Michigan University's top quarterback, apparently has been lost for the season following knee surgery, Coach George Mans said Thursday.

Raklovits, a junior, was the Hurons' No. 1 quarterback at the start of fall practice. He was injured Tuesday during practice when he apparently caught his shoe and twisted his knee. His surgery was done Wednesday.

Fister's Eyes More Success

The Fister's Real Estate softball team will be out to extend its tournament streak this weekend.

The local outfit has buzzed to four consecutive Class B tourney victories in hauling in district and regional crowns at Plym Park in Niles.

But now the road gets rougher as Fister's goes against the cream of the Class B teams in the state finals this weekend at Traverse City.

Fister's plays its first game Saturday at 1 p.m. against the Ann Arbor reglional champ.

"I feel our chances are fair," commented manager Fred Knuth.

The double-elimination affair, held at Walt Warren Field, will continue until Labor Day. The title game is set for 1 p.m. Monday.

The squad, which features the six Knuth brothers (Dave, Steve, Paul, Dan, Fred, Mike), has carved an overall 19-5 mark and also won the Benton Harbor Recreation League title.

Dave Knuth led the team in batting during the regular season with a .487 average while Mike topped the team in homers with six. Fred was the main pitcher with a 10-4 record.

Rich Robards and Dave Daughtry, both added for the tournaments, have played key roles in Fister's tourney success. Robards, from Plangger's No. 2, is 2-0 in the tournaments while Daughtry, from Modar, hit a big homer last Saturday against Albion in the regionals.

The team, sponsored by Dave Fister of Fister Real Estate, St. Joseph, is only in its first year of operation.

Several other area teams also will be participating in tournaments in northern Michigan.

Stroh's of Niles will be playing in the Class C finals at Scottville, Clark's of Buchanan in the Class D finals at Cheboygan and IMW of Buchanan in the girls' Class D finals at Cadillac.

Plangger's Park in Benton township will also serve as host for the girls' Class B finals starting tonight. Bargain Center and Buchanan C&S are area teams in the tourney. Bargain Center plays at 7:30 tonight.

Evert Streaking On Clay

NEW YORK (AP) — Chris Evert's credentials as a clay court player are so convincing after only one match at Forest Hills that even she is confident of capturing her first U.S. Open crown.

"I feel eager," Miss Evert said. "This is the only title I haven't won outside of the Australian Open. I have a pretty good chance."

She won her 76th straight match on clay by a 6-1, 6-0 count at the expense of Australian Lesley Hunt Thursday night. The string, which covers 15 tournaments, stretches back to 1973.

"I'm at home on clay!" said the top-seeded Miss Evert, who grew up on the powdery stuff in Florida. "I'm confident on clay. It's easier to run. I'm still not that confident on grass. I'm afraid I'll fall on my face."

Connors claimed, however, that Masters' ability to come back didn't bother him. "I stayed pretty calm, didn't I? I have a new motto 'Stay calm at all costs.'"

Virginia Wade, the No. 2 seed from Britain who was decimated by Miss Evert in the final of a clay court tournament in suburban Harrison, N.Y. on Monday, was the only seeded woman who failed to see action Thursday.

Most of the others moved into the second round with such ease it was almost a yawn.

Evonne Goolagong, the No. 4 seed from Australia, opened the day's play on center court with a 6-0, 6-0 rout of Peggy Michel, her World Team Tennis teammate in Pittsburgh. Margaret Court closed out the afternoon by crushing Nathalie Fuchs of France 6-2, 6-0.

Miss Evert and Jimmy Connors led 14 seeded players into the second round after Thursday's day-night action, which drew a total crowd of 20,310.

Connors began defense of his title with a 6-3, 6-3 triumph over Geoff Masters although he blew 3-0 leads in each set.

"The first three games I never played better," Connors said. "Then Geoff started keeping the balls in play."

The most startling result of the day was the demise of 26-year-old Rosemary Casals, an institution at Forest Hills along with Billie Jean King and twice a runner-up here to Ms. King.

Ms. Casals, of San Francisco, fell victim to Marina Kroschina, The bluseyed, 22-year-old wife of a Soviet physician stunned Ms. Casals 6-4, 6-2.

Guillermo Vilas of Argentina, seeded eight behind Connors, made quick work of Hans Gildemeister of Brazil 6-2, 6-2.

Bjorn Borg of Sweden trounced Sandy Mayer of Wayne, N.J., 6-2, 6-2.

Manuel Orantes of Spain, seeded third; No. 8 Ilie Nastase of Romania, and No. 9 Rod Laver of Australia also advanced in straight sets while No. 11 Raul Ramirez of Mexico was extended to 6-2, 6-7, 7-5 for a victory over Eric Van Dillen of Aptos, Calif.

Bucs Recalling Two Players From Charleston

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates are recalling pitcher Bob Moose and outfielder Miguel Dilone from their Charleston farm club for the pennant drive in the National League East.

They will join the Pirates in New York on Sept. 2, following the close of the International League's regular season. A spokesman said Monday that additional players would probably be added to the parent club's roster following the IL playoffs.

Moose, a 27-year-old righthander, was sent down Aug. 1 after being on the disabled list with a torn thumbnail. Dilone, 20, appeared in 12 games with the Pirates at the end of the 1974 season.

New Bowling Season Opening Next Week

Gersonde's Features New Look

Dust off your bowling ball...it's that time of year again.

Labor Day marks the end of most summer activities but the beginning of another season of bowling.

Some area leagues have already started, including the traditionally-tough Twin City Classic league at Gersonde's, but the majority will make their debuts next week.

The biggest changes greeting bowlers are the facelift at Gersonde's and a nickel increase per line for bowling at the three local houses.

Gersonde's has just finished an extensive remodeling project which included 18 new lanes, new hidden ball returns, new floors and paneling.

"We've had very good response over our new alleys," states owner Keg Gersonde. "One classic league bowler shot a 700 in practice the other night. We're looking for a good season."

Gersonde's, Lakeshore Lanes and Blossom Lanes have all upped their bowling a nickel while most area houses have remained the same.

There are openings for teams and individuals at almost all area alleys. The best way for a man or woman who wants to bowl but hasn't yet found a spot on a team is to contact an area proprietor for information.

Many of the area houses are also taking registrations now for their junior bowling programs. Interested youngsters can get in touch with proprietors for information on when to sign up and when the leagues begin.

Based on past efforts, some of the top area scores should come from the men's classic leagues at Gersonde's and Blossom Lanes and the Tuesday and Thursday night ladies leagues at Theo's Lanes in New Buffalo.

Both men and women will have to come up with some super performances if they hope to crack last season's top scores.

Terry Hafer's 751 series was the leading series for men last season. The score was the top series in the area in almost five years. He also added a 720. Bob Brown smashed the high game with his 280 while Pump House carved the high team series with 3080.

For the women, Barb Hersh took most of the honors last year with her eight 600 series, which included a season-high 680. The 680 was the fourth best (tie) in area history. Barb also captured her third straight 600 series title. Joan Haase's 267 rated as best game last season and Skip's Other Place posted the high team series with 2880.

There were a total of 14 men's 700 series last year while the women rolled 41 600's.

Familiar Dowagiac Faces Have New Football Setting

DOWAGIAC — It will be a lot of old faces in a new setting for Dowagiac this season.

Coach Lou Famiano has nine offensive starters returning on a squad that will be playing in the Blossomland conference for the first year.

Last season, the Chiefs finished in a tie for fourth spot in the Big Six conference at 2-3 with an overall record of 5-4. Dowagiac was a charter member of the Big Six back in 1936, according to Famiano.

The line that the Chiefs have back all have offensive and defensive experience and are all seniors to boot. The interior returnees are right tackle Marty Smallbone (6-3, 220), right guard Jim Murray (5-8, 170), center Kurt Wiesemes (5-8, 180), left tackle Steve Tomczak (5-10, 205) and left guard Jeff VanHusan (5-8, 150).

Anchoring the recieving corps are senior flanker Bob Waalkes (6-6, 200), senior tight end Jim Cleveland (6-0, 175) and split end Tom Russofn (6-1, 180).

The only weak spot in the backfield is at quarterback where Dowagiac lost John Russom, a three-year starter who was also All-Big Six linebacker last season. But senior Mark McCoy (5-11, 165) got into the last five games and seems to have the inside track this year.

"McCoy has a good head on his shoulders," says Famiano. "He thinks all the time."

Senior Ron Grady (6-0, 175) will be back at the tailback spot with junior Mike Leets (5-9, 170) a probable at the fullback position. Leets also is the 440-yard dash man for the Chiefs' track team.

Defense is where Famiano has to plug some holes. Gone are all-league performers Russom, end Dennis Grady, lineman Lennie Stover and back Randy Pompey. The head coach indicated that some of the linemen will see go both ways. Last season Dowagiac gave up just 58 points while scoring 115.

"We've got mixed emotions about going into the Blossomland," says Famiano. "The Big Six was always tough; there were no breathers from week to week.

"Overall, this team is kind of quiet during practice but the hitting has been unbelievable," grinned Famiano. "We blew open three of the four new dummies we bought already."

"We've really got the nucleus for one hell of a ballclub," the head mentor indicated.

Bobby Bonds Not Fussy

Cuellar's Five-Hitter Beats White Sox

From Associated Press

It's a funny thing, this relationship between fastballs and Bobby Bonds.

On Wednesday night, with New York trailing Oakland by a run in the ninth inning and two Yankees on base, Rollie Fingers slipped a pair of fastballs past Bonds for a critical strikeout and the A's won 3-2.

Clearly the way to beat Bonds is to fastball him, right?

Wrong. In the sixth inning Thursday night, with Chris Chambliss aboard with a walk, Ken Holtzman tried to slip a fast one past Bonds. It wound up bouncing off the right-center field fence for a run-scoring double.

Okay, so the way to beat Bonds is not to fastball him, right.

Wrong again. With two outs in the eighth inning, Holtzman hit Ed Brinkman with a pitch. Up came Bonds, and out to the mound went Oakland Manager Alvin Dark. "Don't throw him any fastballs," he told Holtzman.

So Holtzman wound up and threw him a change-up. It wound up far beyond the left-center field wall, Bonds' 25th homer, a two-run shot that catapulted the Yankees to a 3-2 victory.

In the only other American League game Thursday night, Baltimore beat Chicago 2-1. In the National League, Cincinnati blanked St. Louis 4-0, Philadelphia downed San Francisco 8-5, New York defeated Los Angeles 4-1 and Montreal outlasted San Diego 10-8.

Mike Cuellar pitched a five-hitter while Ellie Hendricks and Don Baylor singled home runs to lead the Baltimore Orioles to a 2-1 victory over the White Sox.

Cuellar, 13-10, struck out three batters, walked two and was helped by four double plays en route to his 16th complete game of the season.

He checked Chicago on singles by Jorge Orta in the fourth and seventh innings and Bill Melton's single in the eighth, then lost a shot at his sixth shutout of the season when Pat Kelly tripled and Orta singled with two outs in the ninth.

The Orioles, cutting Boston's lead in the American League East to 6½ games, gave Cuellar a run in the second inning when Bobby Grich beat out an infield single off Wilbur Wood, 13-18, Paul Blair bunted for a hit and Hendricks singled to center.

They got what proved to be the winning run in the fifth when Ken Singleton walked, took second on Tony Muser's sacrifice bunt and scored on Baylor's single to left.

Don Gullett's notched his seventh straight victory with a five-hitter and Darrel Chaney cracked a homer to boost Cincinnati past St. Louis, which fell 3½ games behind idle Pittsburgh in the NL East.

Philadelphia moved into a tie with the Cards by battering four San Francisco pitchers for 17 hits. Garry Maddox' triple and doubles by Mike Schmidt and Johnny Oates were the key hits in the Phils' three-run sixth.

The Mets stayed close in the NL East race, moving within 4½ games of the Pirates. Mike Vail's tie-breaking single in a two-run fifth inning, Del Unser's two-run homer in the seventh and Jerry Koosman's eight-hit, 10-strikeout pitching carried them past the Dodgers.

Nate Colbert, Bob Bailey and Gary Carter each drove in two Montreal runs to offset Willie McCovey's three-run homer and Tito Fuentes' two RBI for the Padres.

Soviets Triumph

HALIFAX (AP) — The Soviet national volleyball team defeated Canada in straight games 15-0, 15-3, 15-4 Thursday to win their best-of-five series.

The two teams meet again Saturday in Fredericton.

Lions Facing Uphill Test Against 'Skins

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Detroit Lions, propelled by momentum from a victory in their first game in a luxurious new stadium, face an uphill battle tonight as they collide with the Washington Redskins.

Although the 'Skins have won only two of their four preseason games, Lions coach Rick Forzano said they still "play excellent defense and force you to make mistakes. And their special teams are still some of the best in the NFC.

"Offensively, they try to control the game," Forzano continued. "They never go into a game figuring to get a lot of points. They figure their defense will shut you down and they'll get field position.

"They're well-coached," Forzano said. "And that's why they're in the playoffs every year."

The Redskins lost to Atlanta and Houston, while taking Cincinnati and Cleveland. The Lions lost their first two exhibition games to Oakland and Miami, but came back last week to win their home opener against Kansas City.

The Redskins starting lineup is studded with veterans. The most noticable exception is running back Mike Thomas, who at 22 has stepped in for injured veteran Larry Brown.

So far, Thomas has totaled 144 yards on the ground and has caught five passes.

The Redskins' number two runner and top pass receiver is also a youngster. Ralph Nelson, 21, joined Washington this year after playing last season for the Southern California Sun in the World Football League.

Nelson gained 30 yards in 15 carries last week against Cleveland and caught four passes for 41 yards and a touchdown. He has totaled 133 yards rushing and has 10 pass receptions.

Nonetheless, the Redskins' emphasis is not on youth. Seven of the 11 offensive starters and eight of the 11 defenders are in their 30's.

The Lions, on the other hand, likely will rely heavily on rookies.

Quarterback was one exception as Forzano is debating about starting veteran quarterback Bill Munson. "I'll sleep on it and decide," he said Thursday. Greg Landry, another veteran, has been Forzano's signalman in the previous games.

As for veteran wide receivers Ray Jarvis and Larry Walton, Forzano said, "I'll wait until gametime and see how they run."

The coach said he would start rookies Leonard Thompson and Horace King at running back. If newcomer Dennis Franklin starts in place of Jarvis, it would bring to six the number of rookies in the starting offensive lineup.

Lynn Boden and Steve Myers were listed as guards and Craig Hertwig at tackle as they were against Kansas City. Veteran Jim Yarbrough was also likely to see some action, although Gordon Jolly is likely to start at one tackle slot.

On defense, Dick Jauron is expected to return as free safety. Rookie tackle Doug English could replace Herb Orvis and Ed O'Neil, a former top draft choice, could get Jim Laslavic's starting linebacker spot.

If Levi Johnson, who has a sore hip, can't play, rookie Fred Cooper may open at cornerback.

Injuries Hit Key Spartans In Practice

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A rash of injuries hit the Michigan State University football camp Thursday as hitting drills began.

The Spartans received a scare as starting defensive end Otto Smith gripped his knee in pain after a pileup early in Thursday's practice, an MSU spokesman said. But tests by team doctors showed the injury was merely a sprain and should sideline the senior co-captain for only a few days, the spokesman said.

Other injuries were reported to starting senior linebacker Pat McClowry, who officials said separated a shoulder and would be out the next week of practice. Less serious shoulder injuries were suffered by John Breslin, a starting junior defensive back, and Eugene Byrd, a freshman receiver.

"It's about time we had some good luck," MSU coach Denny Stolz complained. "We've had nothing but bad luck so far."

The Spartans have a fullscale scrimmage slated for Saturday, along with other scrimmages next Wednesday and a week from Saturday.

They open at home Sept. 13 against Ohio State. The intense rivalry is expected to be heightened by last year's controversial upset of the Buckeyes by a jubilant MSU squad.

Unknown Karl Ready To Defend B.C. Title

ENDICOTT, N.Y. — Anonymity has returned to Richie Karl.

Last year, Karl walked across the street from where he grew up and beat some of the best golfers in the world in the second annual B.C. Open.

This year, he'll try to remind them who he is.

Karl, a little-known 30-year-old, surprised everyone last year when he carded an 11-under-par 273 to tie with Bruce Crampton after 72 holes. Then he went out and holed a 35-foot putt on the first extra hole to win.

Just as a reminder, Karl carded a four-under-par 67 in Thursday's pro-am tuneup to the $175,000 tournament which is being played over the 6,815-yard En-Joie Golf Course.

But his task won't be that easy.

The field — though lacking such big names as Jack Nicklaus, Hale Irwin and Tom Weiskopf — includes 1973 winner Hubert Green and Dave Stockton, runnerup in last week's Tournament Players Championship.

Also on hand are former Masters champion Tommy Aaron, George Archer, Frank Beard, Homero Blancas, Sam Snead and brothers Dave and Mike Hill.

The tournament, which began as a satellite event to the Cleveland Open in 1971, is named for the comic strip "B.C.," created by local resident Johnny Hart. It became a regular tour stop in 1973.

Attendance that year was sub-par. But in 1974, 40,000 turned out for the four-day event.

American Tennis Crowds Getting More Boisterous

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Tennis has moved out of the snobbish country clubs into the arms of the common people, so it shouldn't be surprised at the consequences.

Boisterous, blood-thirsty crowds.

"American crowds are different," Argentina's Guillermo Vilas said after surviving a first-round ordeal on one of the outside courts of the U.S. Open Championships at the West Side Club.

"I don't say it is better, I don't say it is worse. I just say American crowds talk a lot. They make a lot of noise. It's not what we are accustomed to at Wimbledon and some other places."

Vilas, who is rarely guilty of missing an overhead, is guilty of understatement.

American tennis crowds are getting so they can be venomous. They whistle. They boot. They second-guess umpires and linemen. They root for their heroes and harass their villains.

They are the hockey and football crowd. They ignore the niceties that Colonel Wingfield intended when he introduced the game to friends at a lawn party in England 100 years ago.

For decades, it has been a sin to sneeze during the course of a match involving ladies and gentlemen. To move from a seat while the ball was in play was considered a cause for capital punishment.

No more.

Now — as at West Side — they are plowing up the grass and reverting to a facsmile of raw clay. They have abandoned the all-white rule. Players wear any color they choose. The ladies come out in lace panties and ballerina skirts that would shock strait-laced fathers of another era.

The fuzzy balls players hit are no longer white. They are optic yellow. And the crowds have gone berserk.

Some observers attribute it to World Team Tennis, which flagrantly defied tradition and encouraged fans to come to the arena with bells, drums and vocal chords in full pitch.

"It may have been a factor, but World Team Tennis is another sport," said the veteran Rod Laver, former champion of the world. "I don't think the United States has any monopoly on wild crowds.

"Take Spain, for instance. If I'm playing a Spaniard and am down a set, they go wild. They are as much for blood as anybody. They are a bull-fight crowd."

Fiery, feisty Jimmy Connors, who carries on a friendly running feud with the galleries, says it is largely the same all over the world.

"If I play Ilie Nastase in Bucharest," he said, "the crowd will be out for my hide. It's the same if I play Bjorn Borg in Stockholm or Raul Ramirez in Mexico City."

"I think it is great that the crowds get involved," Jimmy said. "I love it when they get into a match. I think it would be awful if after I've hit 20 balls in a rally and then make a good drop shot there is polite applause and someone remarks 'jolly good,' or 'lovely shot, laddie.'"

Wimbledon may have more to say about that next July.

East Crown Cards Goal

Coryell Optimistic Despite Poor Preseason Play

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "That's what it's for, to find out what they can do in a clutch situation," St. Louis Cardinals Coach Don Coryell said of the exhibition schedule.

Coryell has discovered twice to his dismay what may be lacking in Cardinal defensive reserve, but still retains his optimism for the 1975 National Football League season.

And well he should.

Despite their 1-2 record and absence of offensive continuity, the Cards still have many plusses, including the ambition to repeat as National Conference East champs.

"Last year nobody really expected us to get where we did," noted quarterback Jim Hart, who in 1974 pitched 20 touchdown passes and earned All-NFC honors.

A skilled array of St. Louis offensive talent headed by Hart, running star Terry Metcalf and fleet wide receiver Mel Gray may scarcely need improvement.

But Coryell, whose energy helped manufacture the club's first title last fall in 27 years, thinks his young offensive line may be an even bigger key.

"Fellows like Conrad Dobler and Tom Drahaney are just coming into their own," Coryell said of the Cards' right guard and center.

"The offensive line just had a great season last year," he added. "If the line continues to improve, I have to think our whole team can improve."

Outstanding among the linemen is Dan Dierdorf, who at 28 has emerged as one of the NFL's strongest blockers at his right tackle position.

And lending guidance to such youngsters as Greg Kindle and J. V. Cain are inveterate Ernie McMillan, a tackle and ferocious tight end Jackie Smith.

The Cardinal line last year permitted opponents to trap Hart for losses only 16 times, the low figure in the NFL.

Hart responded to such protection by passing with 56.6 per cent accuracy, a team record, and Metcalf knifed through holes created by blocks for 718 yards on runs.

A bevy of backs vying to accompany Metcalf is headed by Jim Otis, who blossomed last season as a ramrod threat inside.

Among defenders in the Cards' secondary the competition for posts is not less spirted for positions behind Roger Wehrli, Ken Reaves and Norm Thompson.

Rivaling Jim Tolbert and Dwayne crump for the backup spots are newcomers Tim Gray, the club's top draft choice last winter, and Durwood Keeton, who spent last season with the World Football League's Southern California Sun.

No less fierce is bidding at linebacker, where Mark Arneson is flanked by Pete Barnes and Larry Stallings, while Greg Hartle and Jack LeVeck have both looked strong.

"Our defense made great improvement last year," noted Coryell, who may have less than desired depth to back a front defensive four listing Bob Rowe, Leo Brooks, Bob Bell and Ron Yankowski.

New Bosses Face Old Orr Problem

BOSTON (AP) — Bobby Orr has a new boss today. So do the rest of the Boston Bruins. So do the ice rink attendants and ushers at Boston Garden.

Three Buffalo, N.Y., brothers who head Sportsystems Corp. bought the National Hockey League team and the arena for an undisclosed price Thursday, although pre-signing estimates placed the figure at around $10 million. Sportsystems purchased the team and Garden from Storer Broadcasting Corp.

Bruins management and those people running the Garden breathed a temporary sigh of relief when the Jacobs brothers, Jeremy, Max and Lawrence, said they had no immediate plans to shake up the Bruins' management.

But the Jacobs brothers inherited one big immediate problem — what to do about Orr? The superstar defenseman, considered the best in the NHL, has been threatening to bolt the Bruins for a five-year, $6.5 million offer from the Minnesota Fighting Saints of the World Hockey Association.

There's been nothing official so far out of the Bruins' negotiations, but reports have it they offered Orr between $350,000 and $400,000 a year for seven years.

The Jacobs brothers had no comment about the statement from Orr's attorney, Alan Eagleson, who said, "We've told the Bruins we can't accept their contract offer. We'll give the new owners another chance at retaining Orr's services."

But the Jacobses had one hurdle conquered almost before the ink on the sale papers was dry Thursday.

The NHL Board of Governors in Toronto approved the sale, in spite of a House Select Committee on Crime mention in 1973 of one of the firms the Jacobs controlled.

The committee report said the Emprise Corp. "had done business with individuals designated by public authority or authorities as organized crime figures and that Emprise Corp. knew or should have known at that time it did business with such persons that they had been designated by responsible public authorities as organized crime figures or had the reputation of being a part of organized crime."

The committee said its investigation uncovered no evidence that Emprise was actually a part of organized crime itself.

At the time of the investigation, Jeremy was president of Emprise and Max was vice president.

Suns Shaded By Strange Streak

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The lights have nearly all gone out for the Suns.

The Jacksonville Suns, a class AA club of the Southern League, have had troubles all season, spending most of it in the league's Eastern Division cellar.

Three weeks ago burglars stole $800 worth of office equipment. Then high winds from a Wednesday afternoon thunderstorm blew over the 90-foot light pole which illuminates the right field of the Suns' home diamond, Wolfson Park.

General Manager Miles Wolff said the team would try to play the remaining nine games of the season in the afternoons or in the evening without the right field lights.

NEWS OF FARM, ORCHARD AND DAIRY

VARIETY WE'RE LOOKING FOR? Bill Daly (left), retired Riverside grower, talks about the advantages of Canadian Harmony peaches with Benton Harbor Fruit Market Manager Al Braudo. Ten Apple Packers Won't Bargain

By NICK SMITH
Staff Writer

Ten processors that generally pack some 30 per cent of Michigan's apple crop indicate they will buy no apples this year from members of the Michigan Processing Apple Growers.

Meanwhile, three other processors have agreed to buy apples at prices last week by the Growers.

The 10 packers last week, following a timetable set up by the Michigan Agricultural Marketing and Bargaining board, announced that they will not buy fruit from the bargaining agent for the state's larger apple growers, according to Board Administrator Thomas Moore. Burnette Farms, Keeler, is the only Southwestern Michigan processor on the list.

Having made the decision, the packers escape the possibility that bargaining over terms of sale for this year's apple crop will lead to binding arbitration, under terms of the Michigan Agricultural Marketing and Bargaining Act.

However, the decision also means that they cannot buy apples from any member of the Growers. Any Michigan grower who annually delivers a minimum of 210,000 pounds of apples, about 5,000 bushels, for processing is an automatic member of the Processing Apple Growers.

Jack Leaver, director of agricultural services for Gerber Products, Fremont, said there isn't any one reason" why that company chose to not buy processing apples here this year.

But speaking as president of the Michigan Canners and Freezers association, an avowed foe of the bargaining law, he said that the binding arbitration clause of the law is what processors most object to.

In March,10 of the state's asparagus processors, also acting under terms of the act, announced they would not buy asparagus from the Michigan Asparagus Growers.

But in the end all but one of the state's grss canners requested permission to buy from the Growers, says Moore.

In the case of apples, according to Moore, any processor who has backed out of the deal by informing the board it won't buy apples can still bargain with the Growers legally. Any price agreement reached will be approved by the board if both the packer and the growers sign mutual statements.

Thomas Butler, secretary of the Apple Growers, estimated that the 10 processors represent "no more than 30 per cent of the total state pack."

Those processors are, according to Moore's records: Burnette Farms, Gerber Products and Speas Vinegar, both with Fremont plants; Marion Foods, Grawn; Per-Clin Orchards, Bear Lake; Stokley Van Camp, Hart; Smeltzer Orchards, Frankfort; Jebavy-Sorenson Orchard, Manistee; National Fruit Products, Kent City; and New Era Canning, New Era.

Butler said that the state's largest apple processors — Michigan Fruit Canners, Silver Mills, Musselman, Duffy-Mott — will be buying fruit from the Growers this year.

Three processors, who Butler declined to name, have already agreed to buy apples at the Grower's offering prices. Those hundredweigh prices for US1 processing grade apples 2½-inch-up are: Spys $5; hard sauce and slicers $4; McIntosh and, other sauce $3.50; juice and undersized $2.

Butler said the Grower's marketing committee is advising members to promise apples from their best blocks to those packers that have remained in the market.

Saying that this tactic is not meant to put pressure on the nonbargaining processors, Butler explained "we want to do business with the people who are treating us right."

He did not comment how the growers intend to market the excess apple crop if those processors refuse to reenter the marketing picture.

Leaver pointed out that Gerbers might pack apples at another of its plants. All of the plant are located in apple producing regions of the country, he said.

Butler says that in New York, where the expected crop is a huge 25.3 million bushels, growers are offering the crop for the same prices announced by Michigan marketers.

It was, partly the hugeness of the New York crop, plus the slightly larger expected Michigan crop and a big carryover of apple sauce stocks, that guided the Apple Growers as they set the prices for this year's Michigan crop.

Variety Showcase Set

Over 100 varieties of peaches, nectarines, pears and plums will be displayed at a Variety Showcase Sept. 6 at 2:30 p.m. at Hilltop Orchards and Nurseries, Hartford.

Growers will also be able to take nursery and orchard tours during the meeting, which is sponsored by the Berrien County Horticulture Society, the Michigan Peach Sponsors and the Van Buren extension service.

On the orchard tur tree-walls, of apples, peaches and pears will be shown along with special high-density bedding of apple trees with a new type of trickle irrigation. The nursery tour will show budding in progress, the different stages of tree culture and finished trees.

Canadian Peach Could Do Well In Michigan

Bill Daly, who has been in the business of growing peaches and other fruits since 1904, has found a peach which he thinks will fill a need in Southwestern Michigan.

The Riverside grower retired many years ago from active farming, but he still experiments with varieties at his nursery. Last week he showed up at the Benton Harbor Fruit Market with several ½-bushels of Canadian Harmony peaches, which he thinks will fill the current gap that exists after the Redhaven harvest is completed.

Canadian Harmony is ready for picking immediately after Redhavens give out. Developed at the Harrow Experiment station, Ontario, the peach is about the size of Redhaven and the trees are even more cold hardy that the world's most popular peach.

And, Daly points out, like the Redhaven the Canadian Harmony is a heavy-bearing variety.

This is the second peach released by the Canadian station. The first, Harmony, was recalled because it was too soft for commercial shipping. Daly said that Canadian Harmony is available at many Michigan nurseries.

Welch Adds To Acreage

National Grape Cooperative is expanding its acreage under contract in response to "extremely good" reception by consumers of new products, Jim Weidman, communications director for the 2,000 member co-op, said this week.

Since February has National board of directors allowed any member to increase his acres under contract. And it also signed up several new members this spring, two of them from Southwestern Michigan, to gain an additional 500 acres of grapes.

Prior to the board's action no new members were accepted and member growers were not allowed to increase number of acres under contract, said Weidman.

"We operate on a five-year plan," he said of the co-op, "and the board feels more acreage can be marketed." The board's final goal was not disclosed, but currently the co-op controls 30,500 bearing acres of grapes in the United States, he said.

A limited sign-up of new members ended in May. Berrien now has 3,965 acres of National grapes, an increase of 53 acres, and Van Buren has 3,650 acres, an increase of 70 acres. Both figures increased due to the addition of one new member.

More grapes will be processed in the future by Welch Foods, Inc., (the processing subsidiary of National) because of two new products — grape soda and donuts.

Welch grape soda is currently sold in markets available to 35 per cent of the nation's population. Weidman indicated that the new product is selling well and the marketing is to expand over a larger part of the country soon.

Pick Fresh Delicious, Jonathan Sept. 17

Fresh market Jonathan and Red Delicious apples will be ready for picking on Sept. 17, according to the Southwest Michigan Regional Apple Maturity committee.

"Since these two varieties are maturing at the same rate this year one starting harvest time is recommended for both varieties," said Committee Chairman Glen Antle, Southwestern Michigan district marketing agent. Last year the committee recommended that harvest of Jonathan start on the same day, Sept. 17, and that Red Delicious harvest begin Sept. 19.

The committee also confirmed the starting harvest date of Aug. 28, yesterday, for fresh market McIntosh.

Antle stated that red strains of Delicious and Jonathan are developing earlier than in most years. Color development to date is slower than in many years. "This is due to recent hot weather," he noted.

Harvest dates are for apples untreated with Ethrel, which speeds ripening and color by a week, or Alar, which slows an apple's maturity by a week.

Grape Industry Meet In BH

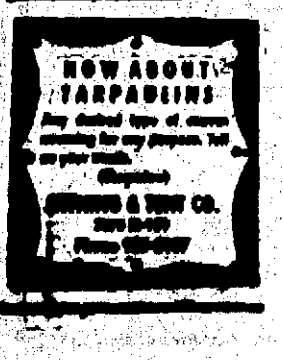

Processors, researchers, fieldmen and other people from all phases of the grape industry will view Southwestern Michigan vineyards and hear several talks during the two-day Great Lakes Viticulture Industry meeting at the Benton Harbor Holiday Inn.

Harvey Beiter, Berrien horticultural agent, reports that people from Canada, New York and other grape growing regions will attend the meetings Sept. 4 at 1 p.m. and Sept. 5 at 9 a.m. Local growers are welcome to attend also.

A tour of Southwestern Michigan research plots and farms will begin from the Holiday Inn Sept. 4 at 1 p.m. The meeting will continue the next day at 9 a.m. for talks by Michigan State university grape experts.

CUTTHROAT BUSINESS

In the 1860's, Texans drove their cattle up to Kansas railheads for sale. Market conditions, however, were so unstable and sensitive to rumors that it was common to see the price drop because of unsubstantiated information. As a result, livestock could change hands with little if any profit going to the producer.

NEW CHICAGO RITZ-CARLTON

'Pampering' Is Their Business

By MARY VOBORIL
Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago's newest luxury hotel, scheduled to open in October, won't be the city's largest but it will certainly be the ritziest.

It's the Ritz-Carlton, and its owners wanted it relatively small. That's one of the standards Cesar Ritz set down in France 77 years ago when he opened the Paris hotel bearing his name.

Other standards at the 450-room hotel, says Chicago Ritz manager William Ebersol, will reflect "understated elegance" in the form of flawless service and fastidious design.

That means white-gloved elevator operators, queen-sized beds, bedside clock-radios ("because most people are accustomed to waking up to an alarm clock or radio") and a waiter stationed on each of the hotel's 17 floors.

It means 14-color fabrics, oak rather than painted metal doorframes, bedside call buttons, rooms for the disabled and closet rods six inches higher than usual so milady's gowns won't skirt the floor.

It also means the Ritz-Carlton may book conventioneers but never conventions. The hotel's forte, says Ebersol, is catering to the individual, not the group.

Prices range from high to higher. A single room will carry a "tariff" of $48 to $75, a double $58 to $75 and a suite $125 to $480. The hotel's 20 fully-furnished, one to three bedroom apartments will rent for $36,500 to $79,500 per annum.

The average daily room rate at Chicago-area hotels in May averaged $27.67.

Ebersol says the new hotel is only the second Ritz opened in the last 50 years. It joins seven others in London, Barcelona, Paris, Madrid, Montreal and Boston. New York City once had a Ritz, but it was sold in the 1950s and since has been torn down.

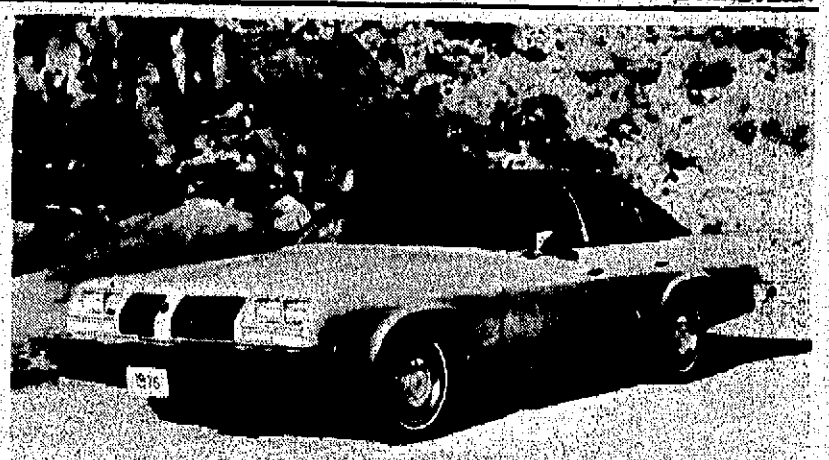

In Chicago, the Ritz will be housed in the still uncompleted Water Tower Place, a one-square-block complex in the fashionable North Michigan Avenue neighborhood of Tiffany's, Gucci's, Saks Fifth Avenue and other posh shops.

With the hotel, the 74-story urban center will combine 100 stores, 40 floors of luxury condominiums, a bank, office space, a 1,200 seat stage theater and four movie houses.

Ebersol says the general aim of the Chicago Ritz, like its seven sister hotels, is to give its pampered patrons the same surroundings and the same service they presumably had at home.

"If you were to go into an affluent Lake Forest residence, you would find something similar to what we have here," Ebersol said. "For example, in a delightful old-time residence you would find call buttons."

Details like the call buttons — which cost $60,000 — lights that turn on when a closet door opens and doubly thick walls, inflated the Chicago Ritz budget by 25 per cent. Increased construction costs boosted the cost another 25 per cent to $40 million.

JOHN P. ROCHE
A Word Edgewise

Portugal's pro-Communist Premier, Gen. Vasco Goncalves, has claimed that he and his government are about to be victimized by a monstrous conspiracy mounted by all kinds of reactionaries. It is hard to keep abreast of events in Lisbon without a computer, but let us hope that he was right, particularly since his definition of "fascist" and "reactionary" includes every anti-Communist element in the country and abroad.

Without attempting to assess firmly the state of play, which changes from day to day, it is worthwhile to examine the players and the roles they are filling in the drama. First, Goncalves and his military and civilian supporters find their pro-Communist base is eroding.

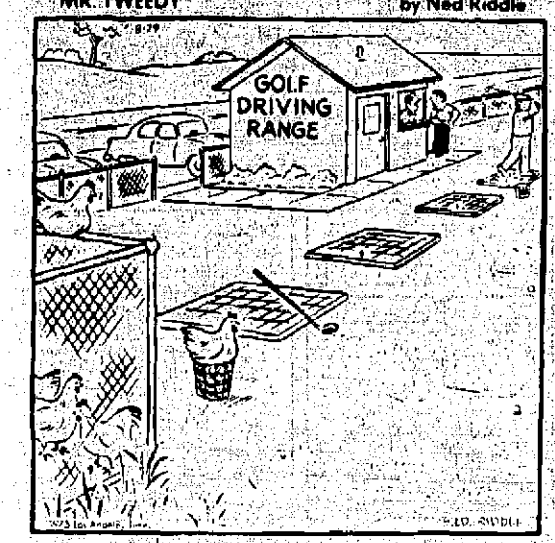

However, there were two wild cards in the military deck: the President, Gen. Costa Gomes, and the head of military security, General Carvalho. The former clearly had no strong ideological commitment, and the latter, who talks a great left-wing game, is apparently wholly committed to Carvalhoism (that is, to personal power and status). For a while it appeared as though the Armed Forces movement (AFM), which exercised real power, was going to achieve left-wing stability under a troika consisting of Goncalves, Gomes, and Carvalho, but the former Foreign Minister, Maj. Melo Antunes, blew the whole scene wide open by issuing a manifesto calling on the AFM to support pluralism and democratic order.

To the dismay of the troika, leading military figures began to sign the "Antunes document," and the original trickle soon became a parade.

Meanwhile, in the contryside the peasants are on the warpath against the Communists. The army and settlers from Angola are coming home and they — also from peasant origins — are a bitter lot.

Thus, as a Marxist would put it, "The objective analysis of social forces in Portugal" leads one to the conclusion that the Communists are in a corner.

Disturbances Erupt 2nd Night

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Fourteen persons were arrested and four policemen were injured in a second consecutive night of rock-throwing and fire-bombings in the predominantly Spanish-speaking North End.

Two police officers were hospitalized Thursday night, one with a stab wound in his hand.

As many as 20 fires were reported throughout the evening. A lumber yard near Interstate 91 was struck by fire, but police and firemen could give no indication whether the blaze was connected with the North End disturbance.

Waste Transfer Site Sought Near Gobles

GOBLES — Gobles city commission last night announced it will begin a search for a site for a Van Buren county solid waste transfer station to be located in the Gobles area.

The county commission has approved that 10 such transfer stations, large tanks where people can dump their refuse and trash to be hauled away at a later date, be placed around the county. The Gobles city commission has previously indicated it would like one of the stations to be placed in the Gobles area.

In other areas, Rev. Rudy Wittenbach of the Gobles Methodist church complained about continued noise from cars and loud parties in the city at night and of dogs allowed to run loose. The commission said it would check into the matter.

A request from Floyd Hander, head of the Gobles rocket football program for youngsters, for a $200 donation to the program was refused. The commission suggested he get parents involved in a fund-raising campaign for the program.

Henry Van Dyken, one of the city's police officers was granted a six per cent pay hike and asked to move to the Gobles area from Lawton. The department's other three officers had been granted similar pay hikes earlier this year.

Jeff Smith, city fire chief, was authorized to make seating capacity checks in city restaurants and taverns and have the capacities posted in the establishments.

Rail Ferry Will Continue

FRANKFORT, Mich. (AP) — Michigan Gov. William Milliken and Wisconsin Gov. Patrick Lucey said Thursday rail ferry service will continue without interruption on the Ann Arbor Railroad ferry that sails Lake Michigan between Kewaunee, Wis., and Frankfort. The two governors, who met here to announce the continued service, also said a government subsidy will be made to keep the ferry running. Milliken added he is hopeful of maintaining Ann Arbor service from Ludington, Muskegon and the Mackinac Straits. Deputy State Highway Director James Kellogg said about $2 million in state and federal funds would be required to maintain Ann Arbor Railroad service.

Blues Say Costs Trimmed

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Blue Cross and Blue Shield said Thursday they trimmed administrative costs on the five million Medicare claims they processed in the fiscal year ended last June. Medicare is a federal program established in 1966 as part of the Social Security Act to provide hospital care and associated benefits free for those over 65. A second part of Medicare is a program for which the subscriber pays a $6.70 a month fee and is reimbursed for up to 80 per cent of "reasonable" physician and associated fees. John C. McCabe, president of the two nonprofit health care organizations, said the number of Medicare claims and the amount paid out for them had increased over the previous year.

Layoffs Reach Lowest Level

DETROIT (AP) — The number of hourly auto workers on layoff will drop to the lowest level of 1975 next week, as new model production moves into high gear at the four U.S. car companies. All Ford Motor Co. and American Motor Corp. plants will be operating, company officials said Thursday. The Chrysler Corp. Belvidere, Ill., plant will remain closed for model changeover until Sept. 8, temporarily idling 4,000 workers. General Motors Corp. said three of its plants will remain closed next week.

Report 2,000 Killed

DARWIN, Australia (AP) — An Australian refugee from Timor estimates about 2,000 of the Portuguese colony's 600,000 people have died in the civil war between liberation movements fighting for control of the island territory. Randall Starkey, an aircraft engineer who was brought to Darwin by an Australian air force transport, said the Timorese Democratic Union (UDT) holds about 80 per cent of the island, but the rival Revolutionary Front for Independent East Timor (Fretilin) is strongest in the capital, Dili.

Market Shoots Upward

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced broadly again today, maintaining the momentum of Thursday's sharp gain.

The opening Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up a fraction, and advances took a 51 lead over declines on the New York Stock Exchange.

Investors' hopes for a letup in upward pressure on interest rates seemed to get a further boost this morning when New York's First National City Bank held its prime lending rate unchanged at 7¾ per cent.

For the second week in a row, there had been some talk that the financial capital's largest bank would raise the key rate on corporate loans to 8 per cent.

Today's prices included Owens-Illinois, up ¼ at 44; Louisiana Land & Exploration, up ⅞ at 36⅞; NCR, up ⅜ at 28¼, and TWA, up ⅜ at 6⅝.

On Thursday the Dow Jones industrial average jumped 22.45 to 829.47 for its largest rise since Jan. 27, when it climbed 30.65 points.

Gainers overwhelmed losers by more than a 5-1 margin on the NYSE, and the exchange's composite index was up 1.04 at 45.95.

Big Board volume increased to 14.53 million shares from 11.11 million Wednesday.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index picked up 1.74 to 85.82.

Benton Planners Oppose License

The Benton township planning commission last night recommended denial of a request for a used car license on M-139 and tabled a request for a used car license on Paw Paw avenue.

Denied was a request by Craig Taylor, owner of Carter's lawn and garden center, 2174 M-139, for a used car license to sell used garden tractors and used cars during the winter.

George Culverhouse, chairman of the committee studying the request, said a used car license would not fit in with the surrounding commercial business on M-139. He also noted that the planning commission placed a moratorium on granting any more used car licenses three years ago. There are 23 used car dealers in the township.

The planning commission is an advisory board to the township board of trustees. The trustees will make the final decision on the used car license request.

Tabled was a request by Bob Bryant, owner of Twin City Auction, for a used car license. The commission tabled the request because Bryant was not present at the meeting.

In other action, the commission:

— Approved a request by Steven Kling, manager of the Twin Cities Federal credit union, to rezone 1873 East Napier avenue from cemetery property to commercial to build an office for the credit union on the site.

— Sent to the township board of appeals a request by Glenn Closson, 2241 Paw Paw avenue, for a special use permit to rent out five acres of his land to the Whirlwind Model Airplane club to fly remote control planes.

— Sent to committee a request by Joe Ranum, 1001 Fort road, to split his 1,800 foot lot into four lots for the purpose of selling some of the property.

— Sent to committee a request by Bonita Beilman, 2500 Territorial, to combine two lots she owns. Mrs. Beilman said she wanted to build a garage on the second lot.

POLICE ROUNDUP

Wounds In Stabbing Require 160 Stitches

Benton Harbor police said it took 160 stitches to close wounds on a Benton township man who was stabbed in a parking lot at Fifth street and Territorial roads about 11:30 p.m. Thursday.

Reported in "fair" condition today at Mercy hospital was Don Sheppard, 42, of 1390 Euclid avenue. He sustained wounds in the face, side and stomach.

Arrested on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon about four hours after the stabbing was Pleasant Jasper Hurst, 33, who gave an address of 232 Bellview, Benton Harbor. Benton Harbor police said he was taken into custody by Niles township police while driving on US-33-31.

Niles township police confiscated a knife with a four-inch blade and turned it over to Benton Harbor police.

Berrien sheriff's deputies investigated the theft of approximately 200 gallons of gasoline from 13 St. Joseph school district buses parked in a parking lot on Glenlord road, Lincoln township. Deputies said thieves apparently used hose from a nearby gasoline pump to siphon the fuel valued at $117.

James A. Lovell, 604 West John Beers road, Lincoln township, reported to Berrien sheriff's deputies the theft of a color television set, stereo and 80 record albums, all valued at $1,300, from his mobile home.

Corrine Thomas, 1046 East Britain avenue, told Benton township police $110 in cash was taken from her apartment.

DETROIT (AP) — All but one of the eight Chrysler Corp. assembly plants will be operating next week, the nation's No. 3 auto maker said Thursday.

Chrysler recalled 400 workers from indefinite layoff this week, the spokesman said, lowering its indefinite layoff total to 10,100 out of a total blue-collar workforce of 107,000.

Gobles Will Resume Pact Talks Tuesday

GOBLES — A meeting of the Gobles Education association has been called for 8 a.m. Tuesday to discuss pending 1975-76 contract negotiations and whether teachers will go to work the next day, according to Elton Ransler, chief negotiator for the teachers' group.

Negotiations between the Gobles school board and GEA broke off at 3 a.m. Thursday, Ransler said. Classes in the district are scheduled to begin Wednesday.

Ransler said the major stumbling block in the negotiations has been class size — the teachers want a limit of 25 students, and the board 30.

Other unsettled issues, Ransler noted, include teacher salaries, insurance, pregnancy leaves, and the school calendar. The board has offered the teachers a two per cent wage hike, and the GEA is seeking four per cent, Ransler said.

Ransler indicated that the GEA would also file an unfair labor practices suit against the board with the Michigan Employment Relations commission because the board unilaterally published a school calendar without negotiating with the teachers.

Ransler also said that the board has refused to meet before next Tuesday when teachers are scheduled to report.

Fireman Is Michigan's Top Hooker

WARREN FIREMAN HARVEY CRANE With first prize rug

DETROIT (AP) — Harvey Crane, a fireman in suburban Warren, is hooked on hooking rugs, a pastime he says beats watching "the sick programs on television" by a mile.

Crane, 48, started hooking rugs in the Tennessee hills in his youth. His talent paid off this year, giving him the top prize in the Michigan State Fair non-wool hooked rug competition.

He didn't take the easy way out by competing in the men's category, either, entering the main category against women contestants instead.

"I've competed with the ladies before and competition is better because they do more delicate work," he said. His winning rug was a 2-by-3-foot creation picturing an eagle perched on the Liberty Bell, backed by a stars and stripes theme.

After he threw his television out of the house 15 years ago, Crane said he used his added time in the evening to go back to rug making.

"If you tried to do it for a living it would become tedious work, but for a hobby it's a nice pastime to while away a few hours," he said.

Crane said Warren Mayor Ted Bates gave him the idea for the winning theme by asking Crane to hook a rug depicting the Warren city seal.

Although Crane enjoys his hobby, he says rug making doesn't interest his wife.

"I tried to get her interested in it several years ago," he said. "But she said it's too much like work."

Jury Doesn't Buy Trio's Story Of Pot Sale Cheating

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

Three Dowagiac men were convicted in Berrien Circuit court of armed robbery after testifying they didn't rob — they just took their own money back after getting cheated when they bought marijuana.

Jurors in Judge Chester J. Byrns' court deliberated 8½ hours before returning a guilty verdict at 11:30 p.m. Wednesday against Ardis J. Knight, 23, Rodney D. Brookins, 21, and Michael P. Stevens, 25, all of Dowagiac.

Each man was also convicted of assault with a deadly weapon — threatening a man with a gun. They were jailed to await sentencing of up to life imprisonment.

The trio was accused of robbing Ronda Langendonk of $271 at gunpoint Dec. 8 at 140 Briar Crest lane in Niles and assaulting John Krukowski with guns during the robbery.

Mrs. Langendonk testified the three men entered the house where she and her husband James lived and said they were there to purchase marijuana. She told the jury that after the transaction had been made, she was robbed of $271, which was money from her husband's paycheck.

Other prosecution witnesses also told of the pot sale and subsequent robbery, and Langendonk testified that 12 pounds of marijuana were also stolen.

The defendants claimed they purchased the marijuana, but said Langendonk had his hand on the scale while weighing the pot and overcharged them, so they recovered their own money for the overcharge.

The prosecution's case was presented by Asst. Prosecutor Jeff Long, while the defendants were represented by St. Joseph Attorneys Paul Jancha and Peter Kosick and Dowagiac Atty. Harry Phillipson.

Two Youths Arrested In Burglary

NEW BUFFALO — Officers of the Berrien Metro crime unit and New Buffalo city police Thursday arrested two youths on charges of breaking and entering Theo's lanes last Saturday. Arrested were Terry Lee Kruger, 18, box 78, New Troy, and a 15-year-old juvenile boy who was petitioned to juvenile court. Police said two cases of beer were stolen from the bowling alley.

ATTACK 'NOT LIKELY'

TOKYO (AP) — Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger said today there is "very little likelihood of an attack" on South Korea by the Communist North "and far less likelihood" that American nuclear weapons would have to be used against it.

Hearing Asked On Gun Charge

A Benton Harbor man, released Wednesday on a charge of armed robbery, was arraigned Thursday in Berrien Fifth District court on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

William P. Atcher, 23, of 1006 Superior street, demanded examination and was jailed in lieu of $15,000 bond. Atcher was freed Wednesday after preliminary examination on an armed robbery charge when a Benton Harbor couple testified he was not one of the bandits who robbed them Aug. 16 on a street in Benton township.

The concealed weapons charge was filed because Atcher allegedly had a pistol in his possession when arrested after the Aug. 16 robbery.

Also in District court yesterday, one person was bound over to Circuit court, three others demanded examinations and was freed when a charge was dismissed.

Dennis D. Guidry, 19, of 782 Territorial road, Benton Harbor, wavied examination and was bound over to Circuit court on a charge of armed robbery of $50 cash from Doyle Cole at Betty's Cleaners, Benton Harbor, Aug. 14. He continued free on $1,500 bond.

Demanding examinations were:

Lulu Mae Chappell, 34, of 1030 Colfax, Benton Harbor, charged with larceny of an electric iron from a building, St. Joseph township Hilltop Foods, July 8. She was released on $1,000 bond.

Robert W. Christianson, 46, of 1100 Lake, St. Joseph, charged with breaking and entering a house in St. Joseph July 27. He was released on $1,000 personal recognizance bail.

LuAnn Kovalska, 21, of 604 West John Beers road, Stevensville, charged with writing an insufficient funds check for over $50 Aug. 1 at Ashley Ford, Benton township. She posted $1,000 bond.

Sentenced were:

John W. Neal, 35, of 304 Summit, Benton Harbor, 44 days in jail for attempting to resist arrest July 15 in Benton Harbor.

Rosell Williams, 20, of 434 Highland, Benton Harbor, one year in jail for conspiracy to commit petty larceny in Goldblatts parking lot, Benton township, Aug. 11.

Minnie Robinson, 30, of 1254 Blossom lane, Benton township, fine and costs of $121 for petty larceny of shoes from Benton Harbor K-Mart Aug. 27.

Richard J. Luft, 18, of 6071 Union, Eau Claire, $150 and one year probation for possession of an unregistered pistol July 14 in Benton township.

Timothy L. Woodman, 19, of Bradenton, Fla., and Debora M. Parker, 22, of Okemos, Mich., 30 days in jail each for use of marijuana Aug. 27 in Benton township.

Referred to the county's deferred prosecution program was William E. Diener, 17, of 740 Sheridan, St. Joseph. A charge of larceny over $100 was dismissed.

Bound Over On Charge Of Larceny

PAW PAW — Danny Lee Milan, 18, Paw Paw, was bound over to Van Buren circuit court yesterday following Seventh district court examination on a charge of larceny in a building.

The charge stems from the July 24 theft of a watch valued at $55 from an office at Crapo's IGA, Lawton.

Officials Split On Proposal

They also criticized the ISO for not changing the rates in communities where equipment has been upgraded, or other fire fighting devices, such as expanded water systems, have been installed. They complained that the condition and age of equipment should not be the only cirteria used in setting fire insurance rate classifications.

The hearings yesterday were the seventh in a series held throughout the state, and two more hearings are scheduled, according to Gast. He said the bills will be re-written after the hearings are completed, and he expected committee action on them in October or November.

Manufacturing Era Comes To A Close

offers have been made.

The Front street site is also the location for Kawneer's corporate headquarters and plans call for the firm to continue ownership of it, Carson added.

The proposed merger of two mining firms, one of which holds 50 per cent of Kawneer's parent firm stock, will not effect the decision to close down Niles production operations, Carson said.

Carson said that Alumax, Kawneer's parent firm, is half-owned by Amax, Inc., of Greenwich, Conn. Shareholders of the Copper Range company of White Pine, Mich., have agreed to a merger with Amax.

The Proposed merger, however, has been delayed by agreement of both companies until a federal court has ruled on a civil antitrust suit, the Associated Press reported earlier this week.

The AP dispatch said the Justice Department reported Amax is the fifth largest copper refiner in the nation, controlling 10 per cent of the country's reserves, while Copper Range company is the seventh biggest refiner, controlling 6½ per cent of the copper reserves.

Federal courts in New York have set pretrial hearings on a preliminary injunction request for Sept. 2.

In another development related to the closing of Kawneer production operations in Niles, the former credit union of the Kawneer employes has announced that it has gone public.

W.K. Shaffer, manager and treasuer of the former Kawneer Employes Federal Credit Union, said that the credit union has now resumed operations as the Greater Niles Community Federal Credit Union.

Shaffer said he will continue to hold the same position in the credit union now located at 1701 Broadway street in Niles.

Membership in the credit union is open to all those who live or work in Niles, Niles township and Howard township in neighboring Cass county, and are not eligible to join other credit unions, Shaffer said.

He said the newly-renamed credit union had assets of $1,196,428, and a membership of 950 as of July 31 of this year. Both figures represent membership and funds transferred after the credit union changed names and went public, Shaffer said.

Shaffer said no figures on assets or membership have been calculated since the credit union opened its new office earlier this month and accepted new members.

In addition to Shaffer, all officers and members of the board of directors will continue in their roles until a stockholders meeting is held at the end of this year, Shaffer said.

Americans Favor U.S. Surveillance

NEW YORK (AP) — The Harris Poll reports that a 42-28 per cent plurality of the U.S. public approves of the use of American technicians on electronic surveillance devices in the Sinai desert.

However, a 40-30 per cent plurality believes that this surveillance provision in the first-step peace settlement between Egypt and Israel will "increase sharply the risk of direct involvement of U.S. manpower in future Middle East fighting."

MAIDEN FLIGHT

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The experimental McDonnell Douglas YC15, a jet cargo plane designed for use at airfields with short landing strips, has completed a successful maiden flight.
